Annexation Study Pushed by Daly City

Jeff President, Trustee to Ask Election Again

President James Cooper and Trustee Lyal Ingersoll of the Jefferson Union High school district announced Monday night that they will run again when their terms expire June 30.

Cooper has served one four-year term and Ingersoll is just finishing his twelfth year on the board.

At their bi-monthly meeting last night, Jefferson trustees were told that the first report on the state testing program shows Jefferson district eleventh graders passed slightly above the national average. All schools rated significantly above national standards, with the exception of Jefferson High school which fell slightly below. Terra Nova High students tested slightly higher than those in other district schools.

District Superintendent Edward Morgan said the tests revealed generally that instruction in his schools is up to expectations or a little better. He said they also show that the elementary schools are doing an excellent job of preparing their pupils for high school.

Morgan said that the Jefferson district pupils tested lower in mathematics than the national average, but higher in reading and writing. As expected, he said, girls showed more verbal ability than boys and less capability in mathematics.

Westmoor High school's heating system, which has been found to be defective, will have to be replaced soon, trustees were told by officials of a consulting firm, Buonaccorsi and Murray. The engineers said the waterproofing of the insulation around the pipes has given way and the pipe and insulation will have to be replaced. The trustees voted to get advice from the district attorney regarding a possible lawsuit against the contractors.

Morgan said that action will have to be taken within the next few weeks before the entire system collapses, which would mean they would be unable to heat the school building.

Trustees studied a proposed policy on the handling of radioactive materials by students. Morgan said such materials are being used in the high school physics classes.

Buying on the installment plan is strictly illegal as far as the school district is concerned. Morgan said the district had been buying movie films on a lease-purchase plan, but had now been informed by the county superintendent's office that they would have to buy either outright or rent the films.

Work and alterations on the Jefferson High school addition is 77 per cent complete, trustees were told. A 63-day extension had been granted reluctantly to the contractor by the trustees in December. Morgan said school officials expect to move into the new facilities about April 15, start demolition of the old structure by June 1 and have all work completed by next fall.

Oceana High school has received preliminary approval by the accrediting commission for secondary school.

Here's What Television at CSM Will Do

An "Ideas Instead of Dollars" approach to educational television "completely flexible," has been described by College of San Mateo President Julio L. Bortolazzo for the use of the college's UHF Channel 14.

Speaking to the higher education and mass media sections of the San Mateo AAUW this week, the college president charted the future of the community educational television for widespread use on both closed and open circuit. On the College Heights campus with closed circuit television, as many as six separate programs can be beamed simultaneously, with live broadcasts originating either in the library studio or in classrooms. By the use of video tapes, these same programs can be repeated; and in addition, materials on video tape can be obtained from other sources.

UHF Plan

As background to the use of the open circuit telecasting, Dr. Bortolazzo sketched the steps taken during the past two years to obtain the UHF channel and plan for its operation in community service. He reminded his audience that Channel 14, originally assigned to Stanislaus county, was applied for and reassigned to College of San Mateo by the Federal Communications Commission. "This is a prime channel," stated Dr. Bortolazzo, "the first beyond the very high frequency band through Channel 13 now in use."

Bob St. Clair Recovers from Leg Operation

Councilman Robert St. Clair was reported "doing well" following an operation last week at St. Mary's hospital in San Francisco.

Dr. John J. Loutzenheiser, orthopedic surgeon, performed the operation on a severed achilles tendon.

During an examination, it was found that a bicep muscle in St. Clair's left shoulder was out of place.

The former Daly City mayor said another operation might be necessary to straighten it out. He said he had no strength in his arm.

The 49er football star said he has high hopes of playing this fall.

Mothers March Chairmen Plan Annual Program

Committee chairmen for the Mothers March of Dimes January 29 meet tomorrow night at the home of Daly City chairman Mrs. M. E. Bloom, 27 Midvale drive.

Volunteer leaders in the San Mateo county chapter of the National Foundation made an urgent appeal last week for persons to mail in contributions in March of Dimes envelopes.

Mrs. Bloom stressed the need for funds to help victims of arthritis through the age of 18 as well as infants born with defects.

"Many people think that because of the Salk and Sabin vaccines, the March of Dimes no longer serves a function," the chairman said. "They couldn't be more wrong."

Birth defects kill 21,000 babies each year and afflict 250,000 or one out of every 16 born.

Arthritis cripples 30,000 children and disables 320,000 adults so they cannot work.

The mothers will be collecting between the hours of 7 to 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Bloom. They will be wearing identification cards and will have sealed cans to receive the donations.

TO ARMS—City officials roll up their sleeves to reveal arms that will be tapped Friday for donations of blood in the city's annual blood donor day program, co-sponsored by the Rotary club. Left to right are City Engineer William Chapman, Councilmen Edward Dennis, Francis Pacelli, Michael De Bernardi, Mayor Joseph Verducci and Assistant City Manager Willis Hawley. (Post-Times photo)

Your Help Is Needed

The day: Friday.
The time: 3 to 7 p.m.
The place: at Westlake school, 80 Fieldcrest drive.
The event: Daly City's annual Blood Donor Day.

That, in essence, sums up the details behind one of the North County's most important annual campaigns.

The Blood Donor Day is co-sponsored by Daly City and its Rotary club.

Mayor Joseph Verducci chairman of the 1963 program, said anyone needing transportation to the school may call PL 5-0850, Extension 11.

Donors giving blood must be between 18 and 61 years old. Those between 18 and 21 who are single must have the written permission of a parent or legal guardian.

Donors must be in good health with normal temperature, hemoglobin and blood pressure.

During the four hours before blood is given, the donors may have only fruit juices, black coffee, tea, crackers or toast (without butter but with jam or jelly), fruit and leafy vegetables.

Carol Folger Has Surgery At Peninsula

Carol Folger, who was severely injured in an auto crash November 17 on the Coast Highway near Daly City, has undergone extensive surgery at Peninsula hospital.

According to reports Mrs. Folger had one knee cap removed, bone grafts on each leg and pins and steel placed in the other leg.

Her broken jaw was wired and set, permitting her to eat normally. She will be in a body cast for approximately six more months, doctors said.

Mrs. Folger's husband, DeWayne, was killed in the same crash that hospitalized her. The family had no insurance and Daly City realtors have started a fund drive to help the Folgers with hospital expenses.

Kay Wooster of Wooster Realty, 131 School street, and Ken Harder, public relations representative for U.S. Title and Guarantee company, 2376 Junipero Serra boulevard, are heading the drive.

According to Miss Wooster, Daly City and Pacifica people have donated $608 to the DeWayne Folger account at the Westlake branch of the Bank of America.

"The donations will barely dent the hospital bill, estimated at $4000 so far," said Miss Wooster. "That figure doesn't include the doctor bill."

School friends of Mrs. Folger from Pacific Grove have arranged to donate 17 pints of blood that she has required to date.

He Liked Palm Trees

A thief with a penchant for palm trees didn't let 250 pounds stand in his way over the weekend, Daly City police reported Monday.

Investigators said a seven-foot palm tree and a planter, weighing a total of some 250 pounds, were carted away from the patio of the Park Royal Apartments at 125 Coronado.

The theft was reported by Henry Doelger Builder of 333 Park Plaza drive, owner of the apartments.

'C'mon, Dan!'

ROOTER — Seven-year-old Terry Boden roots loudly for the Jefferson Indians in their game against Westmoor Saturday night in the North Peninsula Athletic league tournament. He has a good reason — his brother, Dan, plays for the Indians. The youngster is the son of Mrs. Alice Boden of 14 Edgemar street, Daly City. Details of the tournament, Page 9.

Car Equipment Thefts Reported

Two reports of automobile equipment thefts were received by Daly City police Monday.

Gateway Chevrolet company at 7400 Mission street said that thieves had stolen the transmission from a new car parked in a service lot behind the company. Loss was estimated at $300.

Ray Simonovich, owner of the Speedway Garage at 10 Ninetieth street, reported the theft of eight tires and wheels, a battery and a car radio. He said the loss totaled $240.

Fire Scorches Bathroom Wall

Fire scorched a bathroom wall in the home of William Core at 43 Wilson street, Daly City, shortly before 9 Monday night.

Firefighters said the blaze started in the bathroom and may have been caused by a cigarette carelessly dropped into a box with papers.

Windows Broken In D. C. Schools

Pauline Brown school at Eastmoor avenue and Mirada drive said vandals had broken an 18 by 60 plate-glass window on the south side of the building.

County Road Plan Backed By Daly City

The city council of Daly City last night gave its unanimous support to a county road plan that will come before the voters April 16.

The council endorsed the $38 million plan after hearing a report by city engineer William Chapman.

Three projects for Daly City are included in the plan, which is the result of a $173,000 study by the George Nolte Consulting firm and the Stanford Research Institute.

The three projects, expected to cost $2,380,000, are an interchange at Alemany and Lake Merced boulevards, widening Southgate avenue from Cerro drive to Junipero Serra boulevard and the Sullivan avenue extension to the proposed Mary's Help hospital.

The council passed a resolution authorizing budget allotments to complete a frontage road to the hospital.

Councilman Francis Pacelli explained that in order for the hospital to receive a federal grant of $3.9 million, the hospital must have two exit and two entrance roads.

In other action the council:

—Cleaned its tax rolls before turning the tax collecting duties over to the county.

The council made adjustments and cancelled taxes on secured and unsecured tax rolls. Hupf explained that the cost of foreclosing would exceed the money collected.

—Received notification that a request for a study of traffic at the "top of the hill" intersection on Mission street would not be undertaken by the state division of highways until completion of the Knowles street project.

—Honored retiring City Clerk Evelyn Mosman by presenting her a plaque and wrist watch. Last night's meeting was her last regularly scheduled council appearance.

—Approved a rate increase for the Yellow Cab company. The new rate is 45 cents for the first fifth of a mile and 10 cents for each additional fifth.

Chamber Says Quick Action Is Necessary

By RON BATES

The Daly City council moved fast but cautiously Monday night to avoid being left behind in the Bayshore City annexation derby.

The council instructed its technical staff to explore all facets of posesible annexation and to prepare data as soon as possible for presentation to the owners of the industrial property involved.

Councilmen were told that a special meeting may be called shortly to take more positive action.

Several members of the Daly City-Colma chamber of commerce and a delegation of Bayshore City residents appeared at the meeting to urge quick action by the council to prevent Brisbane from grabbing all of Bayshore's rich industrial land.

Add Acreage

Brisbane is proceeding with an annexation move designed to add a 15-square-mile industrial tract of Bayshore.

Henry Dichow, who said he represented a group called the Citizens' Committee for Good Government, said his committee had made a survey. He said the committee found that four of five Daly City residents are opposed to annexation of any land east of the city unless industrial lands are included.

City Attorney Paul Hupf informed the council that this committee is the proprietary name of Fred J. Walker, a defeated council candidate in last April's hotly contested election.

Chamber industrial planning committee chairman Frank Martorana and attorney Thomas Bocci presented arguments urging annexation which would extend the boundaries of Daly City from the Pacific ocean to San Francisco bay.

Martorana said many aspects of Brisbane's move could be challenged.

"We shouldn't be concerned with whose toes we step on," he said, "as long as what we do is right. Brisbane is in trouble and they need it (the industrial property). But the residents of Bayshore City will lose by it.

"If we don't take this opportunity, we will be forever excluded from having an equitable tax

School Official Hits Pacifica Council Action

Disappointment that city officials have approved a new subdivision for the Linda Mar area has been expressed by Laguna Salada school Superintendent Frederick Lucas.

Last Wednesday, the council approved the final map of Oddstad development Linda Mar 30, and left the question of a walkway from Crespi drive to Ortega school in the new development to be settled by the school district and the developer.

School district officials had asked that final approval of the subdivision be delayed until an agreement on the walkway had been reached.

School officials want the developer and the city to share the cost. They say the walkway is needed to bring children down a steep, hilly area to the school.

Oddstad officials say a walkway there would be hazardous, and that they have already spent many months trying to reach an agreement with the school district.

Lucas said Monday the city should have more consideration for the future needs of the people of Pacifica and should co-operate in planning for getting children to schools.

He said the school district purchased the Ortega school site with the understanding that Terra Nova boulevard would be improved and two bridges, one of which is now washed out, would be built.

The school plans to open shortly, but no work has been done.

Lucas said the city should take more initiative in improving two other school access routes he says are unsafe for children — Higgens way and Adobe drive in the Linda Mar area.

He said Cabrillo school will be opened in the fall and that he fears street improvement in a new Crespi drive assessment district will not be finished by then.

Judge Backs Brisbane Bid

A temporary restraining order against a big annexation planned by Brisbane was set aside Monday by Superior Court Judge

Judge Rose also denied a request by the Bayshore Sanitary district that the five members of the Brisbane city council be cited for contempt of court.

The temporary restraining order was obtained by the district's attorney, Thomas L. Bocci, January 7. But that night, despite the order, the Brisbane council went ahead with plans for annexation. Bocci came in the next day with a petition for the contempt proceedings.

Judge Rose ruled yesterday, however, that the council was not in contempt of court and that the Bayshore district had not established a case against the annexation. Bocci said he will appeal.

To remove any cloud from the proceedings, the Brisbane council last night repeated the action it had taken at the meeting a week earlier.

Art Program In Pacifica Is Success

Pacifica's pioneer program in teaching art to gifted children has become a model for other elementary school districts in the Bay Area, San Francisco Museum of Art officials told Laguna Salada teachers this week.

Judith Boles, director of the museum's educational department said she had received many inquiries and requests for help and was preparing an article for an educational journal on the class.

Pacifica is the only school district in the Bay Area to benefit from such a program conducted by the museum. The class was given at Sharp Park school last fall by museum instructors.

At a meeting Monday of Laguna Salada officials, teachers and the museum staff, educators agreed the program was a complete success and would be repeated next year.

The same group of children with high IQ's will continue in the program, together with additional bright students from grades five through eight. Next year, a class for the parents of gifted children will be added.

Last fall, 96 gifted children from

Apartment Plans Get Green Light

A 17-unit apartment building at Vendome avenue and Hillcrest drive has received a green light from the Daly City planning commission.

The commission approved plans for the building, which will be constructed by Pedemonte Properties Incorporated of San Mateo.

The commission also approved an out-patient veterinary clinic in the St. Francis Square area. The clinic will be operated by B. M. McWhinney and Robert W. Disney.

The applicants assured the commission their clinic would not have facilities for overnight care.

Tabled until the commission's next meeting Tuesday was an application for a sign submitted by Cascade Products, 65 Verona place, San Francisco.

The sign, designed for the Best Way market at 497 Bellevue avenue would not conform with the area, the commission said.

Held off again was a deicision on the proposal submitted by Thomas J. Callan Jr. and Michael F. Callan, for the rezoning of property east of and adjacent to Westmoor High school.

The proposal, entered nearly five months ago, would change this area from residential to commercial.

It has met with opposition from neighbors.

The commission said a decision would be made at its next meeting.

Jeff Matmen Down Sharks

The Jefferson High school Indians snapped a four-match win skein by the Oceana wrestling team last Thursday, beating the Sharks, 40-13.

The Sharks won only three individual matches against the powerful Indians.

Oceana's Rich West, who has pinned every opponent in the first round in the 95-pound class, continued his win streak by pinning Indian Joe Martin.

Other Shark winners were Jim Cornett and Nick Pappas, who decisioned Ron Lindsay and Julio Monge respectively.

Best match of the day, according to Oceana Coach Bob Blevins, was between Oceana's Dave Gates and Jeff's Armando Cadena in the 165-pound class. Cadena decisioned Gates 13-6.

CHANGE AT HELM—John Grant, seated, takes over the top advertising post for Henry Doelger Builder incorporated from Buck Hannon, standing, who will head his own realty firm.

Grant Heads Doegler Post

Henry Doelger Builder has announced the appointment of John T. Grant, 35, of 740 Beechwood drive, Daly City, as advertising manager of all company activities.

He succeeds Buck Hannon who left the company to head his realty firm, Imperial Properties, in San Francisco.

Grant joins the Doelger company after an advertising career with the San Francisco Examiner and the Incandescent Supply company of San Francisco.

He served in the navy as a pilot and public information officer from 1951 to 1957 and was recalled to duty during 1961-62.

He was born in St. Paul, Minn., attended Notre Dame university and was graduated from the University of Minnesota. He is married and the father of a son.

Pews Capture Second Victory

The Pews captured their second win last week in the adult mixed volleyball league, sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department.

They beat the A-OK's in second half play in the league, In other games, the Nettles beat the Parsons, Pacific Manor downed the Barcelona Bums and the Linda Martians beat the Jumping Beans.

Youth Snatches Woman's Purse

A 72-year-old Daly City woman told police Monday that a youth grabbed her purse containing $53 while she was walking about 6:30 p.m near Santa Barbara and Parkview avenues.

Blanche Sears of 416-B Santa Barbara said the youth fled south on Miriam street.

Fund Names Two From No. County

Arnold G. Turner of 839 Montezuma drive, Pacifica, was one of 22 directors elected last night to the United Fund of San Mateo county. He is an adjustor for Industrial Claims Service of San Francisco.

Named to a nominating committee was Mrs. Forrest Cunningham of 188 East Vista avenue, Daly City.

Elected president of the county group was Webb L. Witmer, vice mayor of Millbrae and general campaign chairman for the county crusade last year.

Witmer is associated with Kaiser Foundation hospital in Oakland. He has served as a member of the fund's board of directors, its nominating committee and its admissions and allocations committee.

He also has served as a member of the board of governors of the fund's parent organization, the United Bay Area Crusade. He lives with his family at 339 Millwood drive, Millbrae.

Other officers elected at the fund's annual meeting include: Kenneth K. Kerwin of Atherton and William G. Raney, Menlo Park; treasurer, Anthony Disanto; secretary, Mrs. Charles N. Robertson and staff secretary, Mrs. Clyde A. Moll.

Georgia has the largest area of any state east of the Mississippi river, 58,876 square miles.

"Since You Asked Me..."

—What do you think of the new postage rates that went into effect January 7?

Mrs. P. G. Wallston, 100 Hills street, Daly City: "I suppose it is long past due. The postal business is big and it takes a lot of money to run it. A penny more on each item doesn't seem like very much."

Frank Torres, 240 Lake Merced boulevard, Daly City: "It's not much. You certainly get your money's worth even with the raise."

Mrs. Edward Walsh, 860 Hillside boulevard, Daly City: "That is what we get for putting Kennedy in. Seriously, it seems to me we've had quite a few raises in the past few years. I wouldn't think we need it but then I'm not familiar with the financial situation of the postal system."

Mrs. Robert Fleming, 160 Market street, Daly City: "It's a shame that every time you turn around they're raising the rates. I don't think that it's necessary."

J. V. Flores, 232 Essex way, Pacifica: "I haven't read too much about it. It doesn't seem like very much though. You certainly get your money's worth regardless."

L. V. Henderson, Florence street, Colma: "It's not much. When you think that you can communicate with someone clear across the country for only eight cents, it's pretty good.

"It's still a lot cheaper than a telephone call. My daughter lives in Ft. Bragg, North Carolina, and calling them up is expensive, believe me."

Population Tops 52,800

Daly City has increased its population from 44,791 to 52,800 in the short span of two years, according to City Manager Edward Frank.

Frank informed the city council last night that a requested population survey has been completed.

The increased population means that the city will receive up to $64,000 a year more in subvention funds from the state.

City Pushes Annex Study

base," the chamber official said. "We will never have a harbor or heavy industry."

Bocci said it is not unusual for cities to fight land acquisition in court. He cited Santa Clara's action to restrain San Jose from speading out.

Rail Contacts

The attorney, who represents a group of Bayshore residents seeking annexation of Bayshore to Daly City, told the council he had been in contact with Southern Pacific Railway executives.

The railroad owns 51 per cent of the property involved in Brisbane's annexation move.

"If Southern Pacific permits their land to be annexed by Brisbane, the company would experience a large tax saving," Bocci said. "The firm indicated it would be most happy to meet with Daly City to hear comparable figures."

Bocci cautioned that if the industrial property is permitted to go to Brisbane, Daly City also may lose the Crocker lands.

"Crocker will be influenced by the same motives as Southern Pacific," the attorney said.

He urged quick action to annex property around the Cow Palace and the industrial lands surrounding the Crown Cork Manufacturing company.

"Hesitancy in action here may retrospectively be looked upon as an error in judgment," Bocci stated.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said the council fully realizes the benefits and potential of the industrial land.

"We are not indifferent of the possibilities there," he said. "We must abide by legal tenet. We have not been sitting still."

Hupf said there are a number of avenues to explore in the legality of Brisbane's annexation move.

Art Program Said Success

the school district's enrichment classes attended weekly lectures on understanding art. They also visited the museum.

In February, the children will visit the museum's rental gallery to choose a second set of paints to be exhibited in their schools. In March, they visit the Kadinsky exhibit at the museum.

Children in the class developed more tolerance for modern art and became more interested in experimenting, teachers reported at the evaluation meeting Monday. This spring, the school district will purchase special art materials for the students.

Children More Aware

The teachers said the gifted children also seemed to be more aware of what is artistic in the community. The emphasis in the classes was on improving the way in which children viewed paintings and improving their understanding of line, shape, form, color and texture.

The museum instructors Miss Boles and Maurice Yarowsky said the educational experiment also was challenging to the teachers who observed to what extent children of high intellectual ability responded to instruction.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

It is not too often that the Daly City Police Department gets a pat on the back but we would like to take this opportunity to do so.

Upon receiving a call from our principal, D. M. Pagani, officer David Johnstone was at the Margaret Pauline Brown school the next day to conduct a safety assembly with the faculty and students.

Johnstone discussed the dangers the children should be aware of in crossing streets and showed a film on safety precautions.

After the film, he answered questions asked by the children and was very well received by all present.

Our thanks again for both the promptness and thoroughness projected by the Daly City Police Department through Officer Johnstone.

Mrs. Don Aron
Corresponding Secretary
M. Pauline Brown P-TA

Here's a Way to Beautify Pacifica

Evergreen tree seedlings will be available to Pacifica residents Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Park, Beach and Recreation department will distribute the seedlings at the city corporation yard offices at Palmetto avenue and Montecito avenue.

The purpose of this annual service is to encourage the beautification of Pacifica through landscaping. Although there is no charge for the service, officials urge contributions be made to cover the purchase price of the seedlings.

Contributions will be used for completion of recreation buildings now under construction.

The seedlings available this year are primarily Monterey pine and Douglas fir. The seedlings are about six to 12 inches tall.

Officials recommend the trees be given close care and protection.

For the first year, they should be planted in gallon cans or a transplant bed. Instructions will be distributed by the department.

In order to have trees available for more residents, organizations planning a large scale planting project are encouraged to contact the department for information on placing large orders.

The North County's Newest Shopping Center

OFFICIAL OPENING—The new St. Francis Square Shopping center will be officially opened today at a ribbon-cutting ceremony. This panoramic view shows the 17-store layout. Construction started during summer of last year. The businesses range from a barber shop to a junior department store.

High Level Meeting

A tentative date has been set for Saturday, when the Pacifica City Council will meet with State Senator Richard Dolwig and Assemblyman Leo Ryan to discuss the current legislative session in Sacramento.

Among the items coastsiders are particularly interested in are the proposed increase in highway user's tax, the Pacifica Coast freeway and Route 229.

At a council meetnig this evening, City Manager Karl Baldwin will give a progress report on the Westview clean-up campaign.

Last summer city officials were taken on a tour of the subdivision by members of the Westview Improvement club who complained of unsightly and unsanitary conditions around homes and initiated a tree-planting program.

The city assigned a special patrolman to the area and cited several residents for violations of the Health and Safety code.

This evening a report will be given on attempts to form an assessment district for street improvement in the Palmetto Avenue area.

A 'Bland' Jury Report?

Edward J. Reilly, tempestuous foreman of the County Grand Jury, said Monday he feels that most of the jury members "will be happy with a final report that is mild, bland and will not offend anybody."

Perhaps the only report that will be critical, Reilly said, is one he has heard is being prepared criticizing him as foreman.

It is no secret that Reilly and the majority of the jury members have not gotten along this year.

Twice he tried to get the jury to start an investigation of the county probation department. He was rebuffed both times. Reilly told of being scolded by the jurors for making a confidential report prepared by a group of probation department employes, available to the newspapers.

The foreman and the members differed on another matter. It was learned that a committee headed by Alyn R. Beals had prepared a resolution warning veterans about a crackdown on illegal property exemptions. Reilly refused to sign the resolution, feeling that it reflected unfairly against veterans as a group.

A meeting was scheduled, without Reilly's knowledge, to adopt the resolution. Reilly eventually found out about the meeting, however, and attended it.

A business meeting of the jury is scheduled for tonight. Reilly said he has asked all committees to have their final reports ready by tonight.

COMMITTEE AWAITS VOTE

Consolidation to Be Aired Tonight

The housing of four elementary and one high school districts under a single administrative roof will be discussed again at 8 tonight at the Westmoor High school library by the San Mateo county committee on school consolidation.

The session will be the fourth meeting of the 11-member committee and the trustees of the school boards of Jefferson elementary, Jefferson high, Laguna Salada, Bayshore and Brisbane districts.

According to a state mandate in 1955, the committee must submit a master plan for combining their school districts to the state board of education by September.

The county committee had hoped to have a tentative vote by the augmented committee by the second meeting of the group last November. Reluctance by the various boards, for different reasons, has delayed the required vote.

The county committee has proposed the five boards be consolidated into a single district covering the same territory as that of the Jefferson High School district.

According to chairman Paul Bradley, this proposal must be voted upon before any other can be considered.

Once an affirmative tentative vote is taken, the proposal will go before a public hearing, and then return to the augmented committee for a final vote.

The recommendation will be forwarded to the state board of education and then to voters for a decision.

Square Dance Festival Set

The San Francisco Council of Folk Dance clubs will sponsor a free folk and ssuare dance festival at Kezar Pavilion at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Chang's International Folk Dancers will host the festival.

Y-Teen Club To Re-Form

Inactive for several months, the Y-Teen club at Ben Franklin Junior High school is being reorganized.

The club will meet at 3:45 tomorrow afternoon in the multi-purpose room of the school.

Margerite Walker is the club's new adviser. Pat Martinez, director of the north San Mateo county YWCA, will assist her in making plans.

International Program Set

The Folk Dance Federation of Northern California will conduct an international folk dance concert at 8 p.m. Saturday at the San Jose auditorium in San Jose.

Groups of dancers from the Peninsula and the Bay Area will perform. Spectators will be seated in the auditorium balcony. The floor will be reserved for performers. A general dancing session will be held after the concert.

Pacifica Club Slates Hoedown

The Pacifica Square Dance club will hold its third anniversary horedown from 8:30 p.m. to midnight Saturday.

Callers for the dance will be guest Dick Houlton and club caller Jim Wylie. Live music will be furnished by the Ranch Hands.

The dance will be at the National Guard Armory on Third avenue between Bayshore freeway and El Camino Real in San Bruno.

So Let's Dance!

Want to meet congenial people, having an evening of wholesome fun and hardly dent that pocketbook in the process?

Then you're invited to a new series of weekly folk dances, sponsored by the El Camino Reelers of Daly City.

Classes will begin Friday evening in the War Memorial Community Center at Mission and Alp streets.

Instruction will be for both newcomers and those who have mastered the fundamentals of folk dancing.

A beginner class will start at 7:30 and run until 9. Intermediates will join the beginners at 8:15 to review the dances the beginners have learned and will continue with more advanced instruction from 9 to 10.

The folk dance classes will be conducted through the cooperation of the Daly City Recreation department.

Coast Driver Is Injured

A Half Moon Bay carpenter was taken to Peninsula hospital following a traffic crash Sunday night on Cabrillo highway in Half Moon Bay.

The victim, Edward J. Cheatham, 49, suffered a depressed skull fracture.

Three others were hurt in the accident. Mrs. Helen V. Rausch, 43-year-old Corte Madera nurse, was admitted to Peninsula for treatment of a concussion and scalp lacerations and contusions. Her condition was satisfactory.

Her husband, Andrew, 50, and a passenger in their car, Karen Brunning, 4, of Larkspur, escaped with minor injuries.

Highway Patrolman E. A. Campbell said the accident happened at 6:10 p.m. Sunday when Cheatham tried to make a left turn from the highway into grandview boulevard and his pickup truck was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Rausch.

The truck landed on its right side and gas started pouring from the tank. Campbell said it was difficult getting the badly injured man out of the truck. He was conscious despite his serious injuries, the officer said.

Francis Square Opens Its Doors Officially Today

The North County's newest shopping face smiled brightly this morning. And for good reason!

The 17-store St. Francis Square Shopping center was scheduled to be officially opened by a delegation of Daly City officials, civic leaders and businessmen.

Mayor Joseph Verducci was to head the city's party and join hands with the St. Francis Square Merchants association in opening the center.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony was scheduled as a highlight of the program.

The new shopping area, built at a total cost of nearly a million dollars—including land costs, is situated at St. Francis boulevard and Southgate avenue.

Thirteen stores and offices were open today and four more are scheduled to open in coming weeks.

A medical center, planned to accommodate at least six professional offices, also is expected to open in the near future.

The one-story center was designed by Wurster, Bernardi and Emmons, San Francisco architects.

The builder was MacDonald-Young and Nelson Inc. of San Francisco. The Barton Development company of San Francisco will operate the center.

The stores and offices range from a barber shop to a Ben Franklin junior department store.

Here is the roster of the businesses now open and the persons behind them:

Barber shop, James E. Ragland.

St. Francis Dress shop, Gladys Strickland.

Safeway Supermarket.

Nora's Beauty shop, Nora Sotelo.

Lucky 7 Bottle shop, John Mullin.

State Farm Insurance, William Bedford.

Thrifty-Wash.

St. Francis Cleaners, Charles Mabardy.

Mel's Mobil Station, Mel Cristoni.

St. Francis Heights Pharmacy, Bill Schaefer.

Josephine's Gifts, Josephine Farris.

Susie's Gift shop, Ted Lamberton.

Kiddie Korner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Enright.

Barton Development said these stores will open in coming weeks: Ben Franklin; a radio and television outlet operated by Joseph Carbone; a restaurant operated by Carlos and Phyllis Mendoza and Star Realty, C. W. Adams and W. J. Strauss.

Credit Union Sets Meeting

The Employes Federal Credit Union of Daly City, Jefferson Elementary school district, will hold its first annual shareholders' meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Abraham Lincoln school.

All interested persons, as well as members and shareholders in the credit union, are invited. Only shareholders may vote.

Jack Reidy, California Credit Union league representative, will explain the functions of the credit union. After his address, an election of officers will be held. John Spray, chairman, will head the meeting.

Candidates For School Vote Asked

Sixty-one board of trustee positions in 29 county school districts and five of the seven positions on the county Board of Education will be up for grabs in countywide elections April 16.

Candidates have until March 1 to file for election to two or four-year terms starting July 1. Applications are being accepted now at the office of James R. Tormey, county superintendent of schools, in Redwood City.

Five of the Board of Education jobs, instead of four, are open this year because of a resignation of one of the members. Thomas Needham of South San Francisco, board member from Trustee Area Three, vacated his position when he moved to Millbrae in Trustee Area Five. But when board member Paul A. Schumann of Millbrae resigned, Needham was appointed to his position.

Now the Area Three seat is vacant and someone is to be elected to the position in April for a two-year term. Needham's seat in Area Five is up for election, too.

Other incumbents whose positions are subject to election are Nora S. Evans in Area Four, Florence M. Cadigan in Area Six and Perry E. West in Area Seven.

Nine candidates for board of trustees positions have qualified for the election to date. They are:

Margaret M. Galten in the Brisbane Elementary district, Dr. William M. Harrfs in the Portola Valley Elementary district, Wesley A. Pomeroy in the Ravenswood Elementary district, Andrew Baldwin and Elise M. Johnson in the Redwood City Elementary district, Fabian Bettencourt and Marjorie M. Schaldach in the Tunis Elementary district, Alfred Hansen in the San Mateo High district and Carl E. Ward in the San Mateo Junior college district. All but Mrs. Johnson are incumbents.

Schaefer to Head Group

The merchants of the St. Francis Square Shopping center formed an association last week and elected these officers:

William Schaefer, president, owner of the St. Francis Heights Pharmacy; Mel Cristoni, vice president, owner of Cristoni's Mobil Corner; William Bedford, secretary and treasurer, State Farm Insurance agent.

The men were elected for a six-month term that will expire July 1.

Morris Plan Income Rises

The Morris Plan company of California reported net income of $952,885 or $3.07 per share for the year ending December 31.

This compares to $782,054 or $2.68 per share on a lesser number of shares for 1961, according to an announcement by Ralph N. Larson, president.

Total cash dividends paid in 1962 were $2 per share, plus a three per cent special stock dividend paid December 21.

Thrift investment certificates totaled $78,935,842 at year end. Interest paid to thrift customers during the year amounted to $3,481,776.

Volume of lending for the year totaled $113,976,767 as compared to $105,563,662 in 1961. Outstanding loans and retail sales contracts amounted to $88,877,267 at year end—compared to $86,837,143 a year ago. Total assets stood at $103,590,617.

Ground Broken for Insurance Building

Ground was broken in South San Francisco recently for a 17,000 square foot, two-story office building to house new offices for Title Insurance and Trust company.

The brick and glass building will be located on a one-acre site at El Camino Real and Country Club drive. The $350,000 structure will be built by Harvis Construction company of South San Francisco.

The building's major tenant will be Title Insurance and Trust, formerly California Pacific Title Company.

By Le Pacini

EARLY IN THE CURRENT hocky season, a San Francisco Seal named Larry McNabb slugged an official, and there ensued such a controversy that for a while it seemed as if McNabb, along with ice hockey, might be banished from the face of the earth—or at least from San Francisco.

"Brutality," said some, which made the matter sound more like a case for the San Francisco Board of Education.

"There is no place for such a thing in hockey," wrote a San Francisco sports writer.

One radio sports commentator even said he had heard that some ice hockey players at times smeared catsup on their shirts, which may have been a perverse way of defending "slugger" McNabb, but which instead tended to put hockey in the same category as wrestling, a category in which no one but wrestlers belong.

We personally can't see why there was so much excitement.

To begin with, McNabb really only hit the official a glancing blow to the shoulder. Also, to condemn a hockey player for fighting is like condeming a fish for swimming. And besides, who ever heard of a pure-blooded, 100 per cent Irishman who is an ice hockey player on top of it, who never slugged anybody.

★ ★ ★

NOT THAT we condone the striking of an official. But if ever there was a game invented where a minimum penalty should be inflicted for such outbursts, it is hockey. When people are flying around the ice at 50 or 60 miles an hour in a body contact sport, something's occasionally got to give.

How do we know that McNabb only glanced a blow off him? Because McNabb told us, and we believe him.

"I admit I was wrong, and I admit that I meant to hit him," says McNabb, "But halfway through the punch I realized what I was doing and tried to stop it. I hit him a glancing blow on the shoulder."

Aside from his missing teeth, McNabb is such a clean-cut looking and sincere sounding young gentleman that you just have to believe him.

Married December 3 (right after The Incident), and now a home-body type living in Pacifica, the 23 year old McNabb is not only sincere, but quite candid.

"That $500 peace bond the league put on me after the slugging has definitely hampered my play. I find myself unconsciously holding back at times when I'm about to slam someone. I find that, all things being equal, the officials will penalize me before they'll penalize a guy without my reputation."

On the other hand, being known as a tough guy has its compensations.

"I get more respect from the opposition," says McNabb. "When they see me coming, maybe at times they unconsciously give a little ground. The more respected I am, the more effective I am, the better pay I get, the more advancement I make."

★ ★ ★

McNABB, who was born in Canwood, Saskatchewan, Canada ("I really lived in Big River—population 1000—but Canwood had the nearest hospital"), followed a professional path similar to American boys in baseball.

In high school he played on the hockey and football teams (was a fullback), played the equivalent of Little League and Babe Ruth League hockey in his early teens. In his late teens, after his family had moved to Nanaimo, B. C. (where he's in the electrical appliance business with his brother, Clifford), and then to Regina, Saskatchewan, he played the equivalent of lower semi-pro hockey.

By the time Larry signed with Spokane in a semi-pro status at the age of 20, he can't recall ever having been in a street fight.

"I'm not a tough guy," he says. "People don't seem to understand that hockey, like any other professional sport, is dog-eat-dog. And hockey players understand this. I've belted men in a game and have gone out to eat with them afterward. This doesn't mean it's all fake. It's just a part of the business. When you're on the ice, you forget friendships. When you're off the ice, you forget body checks."

After playing with Spokane for two months on a try-out basis, it was decided that Larry wasn't quite good enough then for professional status, so he was farmed to a semi-pro outfit in Haddenfield, N. J., where he finished out the season.

The next year he returned to Spokane, where, after a four month stint on a trial basis, he was finally given professional status, and almost immediately loaned to Vancouver, where he finished out the season.

At the end of the season, he was drafted by the Boston Bruins for $20,000, who then sold him to the Seals for $20,000 and two players.

"Which was quite flattering," adds McNabb.

★ ★ ★

NOT UNTIL he joined the Seals did McNabb acquire his "bad boy" reputation.

"I always played rough, but was never considered mean."

It must also be remembered that, as a defensive man, McNabb must necessarily play rough.

When Coach Bud Poile recently switched McNabb to an offensive spot, Larry wasn't deliriously happy about it. Unlike many other sports, defensive men in hockey often get as much publicity and money as offensive men. Defensive players, as a matter of fact, usually receive better contracts than offensive men, although offensive players often are paid on a bonus system based on the amount of goals they score.

"We don't have a chance for the bonuses," says McNabb, who expects to play until he's 35, "but our incomes are steadier. And besides ,although I'll do anything to help the team win, I'm simply a better player when I'm on defense."

And for whom does McNabb expect to be playing at age 35?

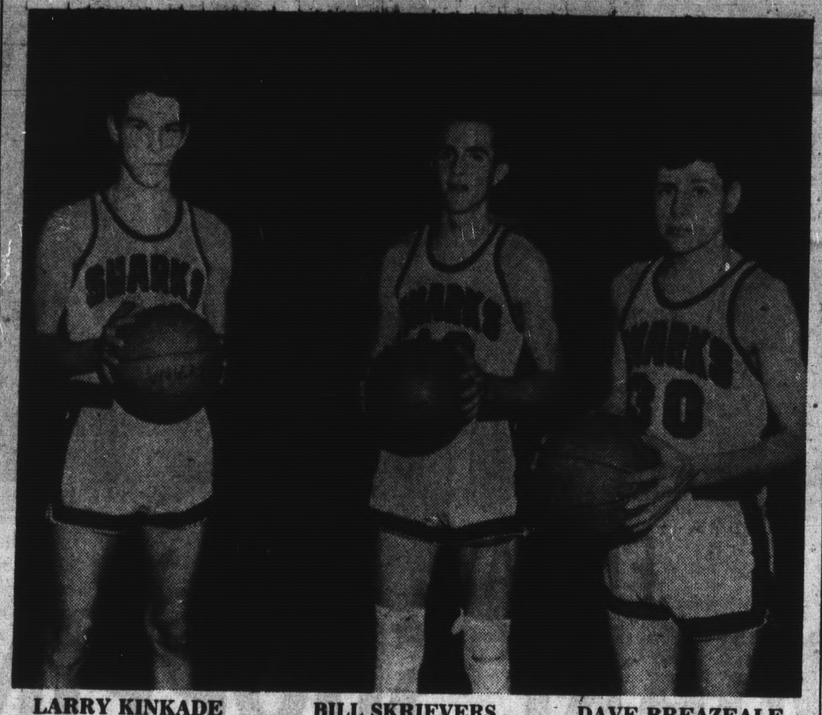
"For the Seals."

No "major league" (the Seals are equivalent to baseball's AAA teams) ambitions?

"Sure. With our attendance figures (note: the Seals often outdraw the Warriors) we'll be major league in a few years and I expect to be a part of it. I love San Francisco and I love Pacifica."

About the only things McNabb doesn't love are opposing hockey players, and, perhaps, officials.

Big Bites in Shark Attack



LARRY KINKADE BILL SKRIFVERS DAVE BREAZEALE

Sharks May Surprise

Oceana Enters First Season

The Oceana Sharks will be swimming in fresh water when they wade into North Peninsula Athletic league action against Westmoor Friday night.

The big question is whether their teeth will have a bite big enough to make the contenders feel it.

This season will be the first year of competition for the Sharks and some of the players don't have their fins wet.

"I don't think we'll be 0-10 this season," said Rich Warne, Oceana's basketball coach. "If a couple of our kids come through we can give some clubs trouble."

Warne has only nine varsity players to work with. The Oceana student body numbers only 615, with about 300 boys to draw from. Five players on the club have no team experience at all.

Most of the experienced players are students who transferred from Terra Nova High school when Oceana opened last September.

The Terra Nova transfers seem to be carrying the load, according to Warne. Larry Kinkade, 6-1, a forward, scored 33 points in four practice games.

Dave Breazeale, 5-10, a guard, and Bill Skrifvers, 6-0, a forward, are right behind Kinkade with 26 and 30 points in the four games.

Warne also is expecting help from centers Ted Brodd, 6-0, Roger Schnittgrund, 6-3, and John Snyder, 6-0; forward Ken Cozby, 5-10, and guards Steve Rentmeester, 5-10, and Dave Westphal.

"Brodd has been carrying the team on the boards," said Warne. The other players are developing, he added, and it is with this unknown quantity that Oceana hopes to give other teams trouble.

"We are improving with experience and hard work," Warne said. "The whole team will be coming back next year so this will be primarily a building year."

Seven on the team are juniors. Rentmeester and Cozby are sophomores.

In an early poll, all of the NPAL coaches pick Oceana to land in the cellar spot.

Warne figures the Westmoor Rams to be on the top of the loop at season's end. "A lot of people are overlooking Terra Nova as a contender though," he said. "They have all of their team back from last year."

The former Jefferson teacher will play a ball-control of "slow-down offense" during the year.

"If the opportunity presents itself, however," he said, "we'll use the fast-break too."

The team in practice has lost to Half Moon Bay, 49-30, and to Menlo, 54-25. The Sharks have beaten Crestmoor, which is also a first-year club, 30-25 and 35-24.

Poor rebounding has been one of the biggest drawbacks for the Sharks. Warne says he hopes the club will improve within the league "where they're more our size."

TIGHT RACE LOOMS

Indians Take Second Place

By DON MILLER
Times Staff Writer

The North Peninsula Athletic league opens its first basketball season Friday and, judging from the three-day league tournament last week, the race should be a wide open affair.

The Westmoor Rams won the tournament Saturday night by posting a 39-37 victory over the Jefferson Indians in an all-Daly City finale at Oceana High school.

In runnerup games, South San Francisco barely edged a scrappy El Camino club in overtime, 39-38, to finish third and the Oceana Sharks handed Terra Nova its second upset of the tournament winning 48-47, also in overtime.

One indication that the league race should be a donnybrook was the closeness of the scores in the three-day competition.

Of seven games played four were decided by four points or less and three went into overtime.

Westmoor wound up as champ thanks to a nifty layup by John Kelly in the last 10 seconds of the Jefferson game that broke a 37-37 deadlock.

The Indians, down five points going into the final quarter, had knotted the count at 33-33 with 4:03 left and then had grabbed the lead on a bucket by Wayne Stoller.

Kelly got that one back and the Rams regained the lead when Mike Morrison grabbed a rebound under Westmoor's basket and raced in under the Jeff's backboards for a clutch layup.

Dan Boden of the Indians tied it up again with 30 seconds remaining on a 40-foot set shot before Kelly sank his winning two points.

That gave Kelly 17 points for the contest — high for both clubs — and 32 for the tournament, the second highest total posted.

Ram coach Tony Giamonna credited the victory to "team hustle" and added, "I think the league is going to be real interesting. Any club could win on any given night."

Jefferson coach Mike Orlich, who saw an Indian victory stolen in the final seconds, commented: "We just made too many mistakes."

In the El Camino-South San Francisco contest, the Colts appeared to have an upset in their grasp with 35 seconds remaining in regular time.

El Camino led at that point 37-36 but saw Lary Cervelli of the Warriors coolly step to the four line and pot a free throw that sent the contest into overtime.

In the extra session Bob Szehner sank a field goal for the Warriors that gave South S. F. the game. The Colts managed only a one-point charity.

Wes Westmoreland of El Camino was high for both clubs with 15 points while Dave Parenti led the Warriors with 11.

Symphony Dynamic

By FRED ROEHR

Last Friday the Peninsula Symphony Orchestra played the first of its second pair of concerts. Aaron Sten conducted in his usual precise, dynamic style. The three selections played were effectively handled by the orchestra. "Fingal's Cave," by Mendelssohn, was somewhat slowly paced and lacked some of the neatness the composer demands — particularly of the strings. Nevertheless this tone picture of sea-built caves was effectively painted.

The Beethoven Symphony No. 7 came next. Often called the "dance" symphony, this work has dynamic intricacy that is demanding of a professional orchestra. Sten had to hold tempos to fit the orchestra so the first and third movements were on the slow side. Oddly the second movement was a bit fast. This, however, did not detract from the general good effect. The fourth movement came through in fine style in both tempo and dynamics.

After the intermission came the real treat of the evening. The Dvorak Cello concerto is no stranger to the orchestra; they last played it in March 1960. There was a sure authoritative reading which grew out of the confidence of the familiar.

The soloist, Gabor Rejto, also was making a return engagement. His masterful playing and beautiful tone leave nothing to be desired. The orchestra rose to the occasion and the romantic richness of Dvorak's masterpiece spread out like a gorgeous sunset.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

DO YOU FEEL that you never want to hear the words, ham, turkey or turkey hash again as long as you live? Take heart girls, this will pass, it's a common reaction known as the "Thanksgiving-Christmas-New Years Cooks Syndrome."

In order to spare your tender sensibilities how about trying this dish? It uses pork chops and cabbage and is very good indeed.

SWEET AND SOUR CHOPS

6 pork chops
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 onion, sliced (large or small, depending on your taste in onion)
1 cup of tomato juice
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup vinegar
Salt and Pepper to taste
5 cups coarsely cut cabbage

Trim excess fat from the chops. Brown the chops in oil in a large frying pan. Combine and add the remaining ingredients except the cabbage.

Cover and bring to good steam. Then lower heat and simmer for about 30 minutes or until the chops are tender. Then plop the cabbage on top, cover and cook 10 to 20 minutes, depending on how you like your cabbage. 10 minutes makes a very crisp dish and the longer you cook, naturally, the softer the cabbage. Remove the chops and toss the cabbage in the sauce and serve.

☆ ☆ ☆

NOW THAT we have the main dish planned, and may I suggest mashed or baked potatoes as a nice starch with this meal, here is a desert that made a big hit in my family. And it made an especially big hit with me because it's so easy to make. The original recipe came from a baking mix manufacturer in the east.

CHERRY PINWHEEL DESSERT

2 cups biscuit mix
2 tbsp. shortening
½ cup milk
1-3 cup brown sugar
3 tbsp. soft butter
1 can cherry pie filling
Whipped cream

Add the shortening to the biscuit mix and cut in finely. Stir in milk with a fork until dough is soft, but not sticky. Knead gently 8 to 10 times on a lightly-floured surface. Roll out to a rectangle 8 x 10 inches and spread with the mixture of brown sugar and butter. Roll as you would a jelly roll, starting with shorter side to make a roll 8" long. Cut in 6 slices and place in greased muffin tins (use the large 3" tins). Bake 10 to 12 minutes in a pre-heated 425 degree oven. Top with cherry pie filling and whipped cream and serve immediately.

Strangely Limited Program

By FRED ROEHR

The Tri-City Concert association presented the San Antonio symphony with David Bar-Illan, guest pianist, Sunday afternoon. Dr. Victor Alessandro, conductor, exhibited a well-trained ensemble, adequate to the program required of it. The program was strangely limited. Three hundred years of orchestral music were represented by a Beethoven Overture and a Liszt Concerto while the rest of the program was devoted to twentieth century music. Now, much good music has been written in the twentieth century; but also a large amount of what Howard Hansen calls "cerebral creation" has filled pages and pages of music designed to disregard 1800 years of melodic and harmonic discovery.

The "El Salon Mexico," by Copland and Prokofieff's Fifth Symphony are outstanding compositions of the modern school, clerely written and excitingly scored for orchestra. Melodies, harmonies and rhythms are easily detected but always there is a contradictory, discordant element which seems designed to destroy the beauty that is about to break through. The term "sick" is often used to describe certain areas of our society. The term seems applicable to certain of our contemporary composers and conductors. At least the urge to destroy the beautiful in art forms is hardly healthy. It is not as if there were not examples of modernism that use an abundance of discord to accent by contrast the concordant beauty we all recognize.

The Liszt Concerto No. 1 saved the day; not that it is such a great concerto, but it introduced a new, remarkable pianist. David Bar-Illan is a small young man of slight build. At the piano he becomes a giant with hands of steel, perfectly controlled. The massive power of his chord and octave passages, the flashing brilliance of scales and arpeggios, and the masterly control of the ebb and flow of rhythm made this a Liszt concerto to be long remembered. Of course the fine balance, unanimnity, and ensenble which comes about when a soloist travels with the orchestra contributed greatly to this outstanding performance. Bar-Illan is a pianist to keep an eye on; he could become one of the great ones.

Three encores, a "Romanza" for oboe and strings by a young Texan, Jack Kirkpatrick; a modernistic "March" by Clifton Williams who conducted his own work; and the "March" from Prokofieff's "Love of Three Oranges" brought the program to a close. The nest Tri-City concert will present the "Fabulous Romeros," four guitarists, in February.

Patti Stolz is the director of the Bell-Tones and teaches the South San Francisco class.

Mrs. Stolz said she hopes the Belle-Tones can be expanded to include a male voice section.

Any Daly City-Colma or Westlake resident — male or female — interested in joining the chorus is urged to call the Recreation department at PL 5-0650 for additional information.

Rehearsals are held from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Thursdays at the Lincoln Park clubhouse. No rehearsal will be held this week because of tomorrow's concert.

Mrs. Stolz said the chorus is available for local appearances during April, May and June. Program chairman may call her at JU 6-2287.

Women appearing in tomorrow's concert include:

The Mesdames Betty Vincent, Susan Boyd, Jean Lewin, Gladys Schultz, Helen Boyd, Jolyne Libeerati, Jackie Howe and Kay Kaufman.

The Mesdames Vera Bassford, Oleta Bate, Mary Breckon, Lee Druhn, Fawn Grant, Sonia Kapostins, Gail Herman, Sylvia Robin, Virginia Kirkman, Loel Lim, Lysbeth Verhagen Marr, Dolores Nordstrom, Jay Rovetta and Janine Valentine.

Delaware Campus Sale Is Readied

An hour-long discussion of preparation leading to public sale of the Delaware campus topped the agenda of the San Mateo junior college district board of trustees at last week's meeting.

Following the discussion, in which the minimum price of $2,-250,000, schedule of payments, interest rate, legal arrangements, and other issues were explored, the board agreed to hold a special meeting in the near future to consider specific resolutions on the sale. The date of the special meeting will be set following notice from deputy district attorney Frank Piombo of completion of necessary legal research and proposed resolutions for the sale.

In opening the report on the recent intensive efforts to effect a basis for competitive bidding on the 30 acre property, Superintendent Julio L. Bortolazzo described the goals of the district in preparing for the sale. As indicated by the superintendent, a major consideration is that the district secure an optimum price consistent with a final use in the best interests of the community. Dr. Bortolazzo also stressed that competitive bidding must be attracted, a common denominator be bodied in the terms to assure equal treatment for all bidders, clarification of legal and procedural problems of bidding and zoning must be made, and that the timeline of payment must fit the district's master plan.

The Delaware property, now the site of the College's science and shop buildings, was first opened to bid in November of 1959, following an intensive publicity campaign. When no bids were received for the property as a research and executive center, the board and administration reviewed the whole question of financing and development of the property. The present consideration of sale is in line with the scheduled completion of the College Heights campus, when the Delaware buildings will be vacated and available for other than College use.

In another item of old business, the trustees approved a sabbatical leave policy for 1963-1964. The district policies and procedures will be revised to provide for the option of one full year of leave at half salary, or one semester at full salary, or two semesters within three years at half salary. Further, the preliminary screening of applications and assignment of priorities will be done by a faculty committee.

FUCHSIA MEETING

The Pacifica branch of the American Fuchsia society will hold its first 1963 meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at the Sharp Park Elementary school in Pacifica.

Harry Nagel, noted author of many gardening articles and past president of the AFS, will speak on the subject: "Soil Culture and Fertilizing."

LOWELL WILLIAMS

Williams Is Top 'Senator'

The final phase of the Fourth Annual Session of the Model Senate ended recently when the Jefferson High school executive board awarded trophies to three outstanding senators.

One trophy was given to the top senator and one each to a Republican and Democratic senator.

The awards were based on all around participation and outstanding performance.

The top award went to Lowell Williams who portrayed Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Majority whip Bill Bruening, who took the part of Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, won the trophy for the Democratic party. Ron Bjorkland, who played the part of Republican Senator Jacob Javits, of New York was the other winner.

The assistant principal of Jefferson, Thomas Redmond, said the faculty of the school is "very proud of all the students who participated in the model senate."

Westmoor Yearbook Is Readied

Designed to provide a bit of nostalgia in the years after graduation, Westmoor High school's '63 Rambler, a yearbook featuring padded covers and color photography, is being readied for publication.

The first section has gone to press. The end of each month will mark a deadline for one of the other three sections.

The yearbook will sport eight more pages, spot color, art work and a lavish use of pictures.

Introduced this year is the use of "ghostics" — the superimposing of one picture over another.

Revived is the use of explanatory captions. Featured will be Westmoor's successful athletic teams and Swedish foreign exchange student, Helena Frisell.

Co-editors of the Rambler are Ann Irby and Virginia Maches. The art editor is Mike Flanagan and his assistant is Mary Jane Putz. They created the cover design.

Aiding production editor Chris Tierney is Jean Shea. Penny Huff will help layout editor Gary Davies.

The yearbook has sold 1110 copies to date.

Junior Teen Clubs Hold First Meet

Nearly 400 seventh and eighth grade students living west of Junipero Serra boulevard turned out for last Friday's opening program of the Daly City Recreation department's newly formed junior teen clubs.

Enthusiastic groups of teens met at the Westlake Park clubhouse, the Ben Franklin and Daniel Webster school multi-purpose rooms and the Westmoor Park clubhouse to inaugurate the second set of junior high teen clubs in Daly City.

An overflow crowd of students at the Westmoor Park clubhouse will necessitate some revisions in either the site or club boundaries prior to the next meeting on January 25, according to recreation department officials.

The opening night program featured dancing informal sports activities, mixer games and an outline of each club's proposed organization. Tentative committees were formed at each club to assist in planning the next series of meetings.

Application blanks for membership are available at Ben Franklin Junior High school. Initial membership fee is 75 cents with a ten-cent admission charge for each activity.

What's Doing At Westmoor

By SHERRY ROSEN

"VOTE FOR the Kennedy of Your Choice . . ."—peripatetic politicians (of the slogan and handshake variety) are urging at Westmoor these days, campaigning with vigor for the spring semester class and student body elections. Candidates for class offices will address their classes tomorrow and Friday while twenty hopefuls for student body positions will face their public Tuesday.

Junior Statesmen have incorporated a novel idea into the traditional election procedure, requiring voters to register to be eligible to vote. Even the voting process has been changed. Students will use voting machines to cast ballots.

☆ ☆ ☆

FALL SEMESTER student body officers are bowing out of office with a flourish. Last week they presented the student body with a final draft of a long-awaited constitution, absent from WHS student government for almost two years.

Congratulations to senior Jeff McGowan who was one of thirty boys from San Mateo county appointed by Congressman J. Arthur Younger as a finalist for the United States Service Academies. Jeff is competing for the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York.

Orchids went also to the entire student body in the form of a "Good Willie award" from Good Will Industries in San Francisco for Westmoor's contribution of 4,000 pounds of clothing at Christmas. According to a letter of thanks received from the agency, the record high donation from WHS provided 1000 hours of work for the handicapped and made possible bonuses of $25 to $100 for those employes.

And orange blossoms to social science mentor Richard McCormac, who took the big step during the recent holidays. His bride is a nurse at the University of California hospital in San Francisco.

FINANCES are flourishing at the hilltop—classwise, that is. Seniors have been selling 30-cent "brief-folios" with the Westmoor insignia, and the juniors put their "rah phones" on sale just in time for the basketball tournament at Oceana last weekend.

Book store bulletin: Business at the campus shop is so bustling that its directors have had to set a five minute limit for the selection and purchasing of books in order to take care of buyers. Newest sale items are copies of the WHS 1962 literary magazine, Ramifications.

SEVERAL college-minded Rams were on hand last Thursday to hear a representative from the University of the Pacific. The representative was ably assisted in answering queries about UOP by Margaret Riggs, dean of girls, who is an alumna of the university.

Classroom briefs: aspiring actors of the English 5E class presented Thornton Wilder's "Childhood" to the class last Monday in conjunction with their study of American drama. Participating in the production were juniors Charles Curtis, Marilyn Derham, Evelyn Goodell, Denise Jamin, and Albert Parham.

Novice Actors Present Skits

Westmoor High school's Little Theater was filled last month as novice actors of Robin Jackson's drama class presented their first after-school program.

Students appeared in scenes from "The Sound of Music," "First Lady," "Rebecca," "Stage Door," "I Remember Mama," and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Additional students worked in other areas to make the presentation a success. Pam Altman served as house manager, properties were handled by Kathie Seltenrich and the stage crew included Sharon Ellingson, Wendy Warfield, and Flip Reade.

Study of Bay Area Planned

The story of California's modern agriculture is featured in a 28-minute film, "This Wonderful Land," presented by the Bank of America.

Made available as a public service, the 16 mm sound film is available for schools, business, service and social groups. It tells the story of California's farming industry as it appears to a city boy visiting a farm for the first time.

Numerous farm problems are reviewed. The interdependence of the farm and city is demonstrated—showing marketing procedures, and the important role of water for both farm and urban areas.

A $1,836 Hassle Ends in Pacifica

By LOIS McNALLY

After five months of legal hassle that cost Pacifica taxpayers $1836, residents of the Sanchez Adobe area will soon see a gas station in their neighborhood.

Construction will begin this week on the controversial Union Oil station. It should be in operation in about six weeks, Hal Nelson of Sea Village Associates said.

City councilmen were defeated in Superior Court last month when Judge James T. O'Keefe ruled in favor of the landowner, Victor Magrin, and ordered city officials to issue a building permit for the station.

Councilmen voted not to appeal the decision and told the building inspector to issue the permit.

LAST WEEK at city council meeting, complaints were still heard from Linda Mar citizens who felt the council should continue the fight to block the building of the station in a residential neighborhood close to the historic manument, the Sanchez Adobe.

The council voted to reverse an earlier decision and rezoned the lot for commercial use. Vernon Vale, attorney for the landowner, warned that if the council did not rescind its earlier action, it would be subject to a further lawsuit.

The lot, at the corner of Linda Mar boulevard and Adobe drive, was first zoned for commercial use three years ago when Magrin applied for permission to build a medical-dental center.

Magrin and his associates decided later to build the center on San Pedro road.

City planning commissioners and councilmen were surprised this summer by an application for architectural approval for a Union Oil gas station on the site.

The planning commission granted the approval. After a stormy session in which a large delegation of Linda Mar residents appealed to the council that they had been "betrayed," the city council voted to withhold approval. This action by the council was set aside by Judge O'Keefe's decision last month.

ALL COUNCIL decisions on the gas station fight were split. Mayor George Mason and Councilman Harold Feyge had consistently argued that the city had no right to block the gas station.

The move to block the station was led by Councilwoman Jean Fassler and Councilman Fred Ballew who voted last week to oppose the station by listing it as a non-conforming use on residential property.

It was Councilman Harlan Minshew who supported the decision to withhold architectural approval that brought on the legal action. This month he voted with Mason and Feyge not to continue the fight against the station.

At the council meeting last week, a protest letter from Dwight Byfield, 1383 Crespi drive, was read. Byfield said he hoped other Pacificians would follow his lead and show their feelings by boycotting the new station and turning in their Union Oil credit cards.

60-Bed Unit Start Slated

Construction will begin this week in Pacifica on the city's first convalescent hospital. The 60-bed unit is to be built on San Pedro road in the Linda Mar area by Wallingford and Morrow, general contractors.

Space on the site has been reserved for a medical-dental center and eventually a general hospital. Hal Nelson of Sea Village associates said the convalescent home will be finished in four or five months.

There are approximately 8600 living species of birds.

Peg Penoyer is the instructor.

Basic principles of composition and color will be taught. Students will be cnouraged to develop their own creativity while learning basic techniques.

Pacifica Merchants Protest Street Jobs

The failure of utility companies to notify the city or property owners when opening public streets, especially on highway frontage roads under the jurisdiction of the state division of highways, is causing merchants and property owners serious hardships, Pacifica city councilmen were informed last week.

Owners of Landi's Market complained that public utility crews opened the street in front of their establishment on a Friday recently without notifying them, cutting off their parking facilities for an entire weekend.

The owner of Far Away Places objected that he has almost been forced out of business because his store was blocked without notice during the Christmas shopping season.

City Manager Karl A. Baldwin last week presented a draft of a proposed letter asking that utility companies notify city officials and property owners when they plan to open a street so emergency plans may be made by merchants. Councilmen agreed to review the entire situation at their study meeting tonight.

Club Rezoning

The council by a three to two vote last week agreed to rezone the Vagabond Club on Pedro Point from a residential to a commercial-recreation zone to allow opening of a restaurant after a two-hour long hearing in which some 60 citizens jammed into the council's chambers to speak their piece.

A petition containing 170 signatures was presented opposing the rezoning, while a second petition asking approval contained 190 signatures. Opponents of the restaurant complained that while the favoring petition contained only 25 signatures from Pedro Point residents, the opposition petition contained the signatures of 85 nearby residents.

Voting against the rezoning were council members Jean Fassler and Fred Ballew.

Members of the local Lions club appeared to protest reports that they had failed to complete work at two recreation centers after agreeing to six months ago. Members of the recently formed Rotary club have offered to take over work allegedly left uncompleted by the Lions club.

Lion representatives objected that they have contributed both time and money to improve a recreation center in Pomo Park and restrooms at Pedro Beach. They complained that they were unable to continue work on the Pedro Beach restrooms because the city had failed to put in water service.

Councilmen agreed to review the entire situation.

In other actions, the council:

Agreed to review proposed changes in a lease for a bunker at the Nike site sought for an underground civilian defense headquarters requested by the Army. Councilman Harland Minshew questioned why Police Chief Neil Tremaine is negotiating with the army in behalf of the city instead of civilian defense authorities.

Approved a final map of Linda Mar No. 30 after agreeing to discuss a proposed condition that a walkway be placed to Ortega school at a later date.

Rezoned two lots on Old County road in Rockaway Beach to permit construction of a store building.

Agreed to require Charles T. Cadjew to move a substandard home on Amapola drive in Vallemar to come within setback lines before he is allowed to remodel it.

Rezoned the lot of the controversial Union Oil company service station on Adobe drive back to a commercial zone by a three to two vote.

Rejected a $350 damage claim from the Laguna Salada elementary school district for mud washed onto the site of Linda Mar school and pointed out the city cleaned up mud on Crespi drive from a new school site without submitting a bill to the school district.

Scheduled a special meeting for Monday to review plans for a county-wide bond issue to finance a city-county road improvement program.

Agreed to discuss a policy regulating appointive city officers who run for elective positions at their next study meeting.

Agreed that a special officer should be assigned to direct highway traffic at special events such as church meetings.

County Backs SSF in Plea On Crossing

The county Planning Commission has joined the South San Francisco City Council in advocating a grade separation of Junipero Serra freeway at a proposed extension of San Felipe avenue.

San Felipe would link the big Christen Ranch development with South San Francisco through an underpass at Junipero Serra. It is not proposed that there would be an interchange of traffic at the intersection.

South San Francisco officials asked the county to join them in asking the state for the grade separation. The city plan is to increase the importance of San Felipe by extending it both east and west so that it will serve crosstown traffic between El Camino High school and the Christen Ranch.

If the underpass is approved, it will provide the only crossing of the freeway between interchanges at Hickey and Westborough boulevards, a distance of one and one-half miles.

The commission has asked the county Board of Supervisors to support South San Francisco's attempt to win approval of the underpass from the federal bureau of public roads and the state highway commission.

Vacation Items At Boat Show

The 19th Annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat show which opens at the Cow Palace for a 10 day engagement on February 1, will feature many sports and vacation time items in addition to the cruisers, sailboats, fishing tackle and hunting gear.

Included are baseball sliding shorts, sportsman's glasses which protects the eye from impact and pistol shooting blow back; the new Columbia 300 bowling ball, adjustable aluminum cots, Randy Boatshu, the shoe used by the U. S. Olympic Sailing Team; and the "Instant" fireplace.

Everything for the boating enthusiasts, fishermen, hunters, campers and vacationists will be available at the outdoor exposition which will run through February 10.

Doors will be open daily from 2 to 11 p. m., Saturdays from 11 a. m. until 11 p. m. and Sundays from 11 a. m. until 7 p. m.

D.C. Firemen Are Injured

Fire badly damaged a frame house at 768 Niantic avenue, Daly City, Friday and three firemen suffered minor injuries fighting the blaze.

The fire was one of three that Daly City firemen were summoned to in a 90 minute period. The others were a minor electrical fire in a restaurant and a grass fire.

Battalion chief Melvin Hansen estimated damage to the Niantic avenue house at $7000 and to the contents at $2500.

He said the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Gomez, were away when the fire was reported at 3 .pm. He said the couple had recently purchased new furniture.

The injured firemen were: Maurice Sciaroni, 25, and Dale Cheli, 26, who suffered cut feet, and John Martin, 31, who had a cut hand.

Hansen said the cause of the fire was not determined. It broke out in a closet next to a dining room and quickly spread to the dining area and the attic.

Fourteen firemen, using two high pressure lines and auxiliary lines, brought the fire under control.

Hansen said the entire house suffered extensive smoke and water damage.

At 3:10 p.m., firemen were summoned to Cooper's Kitchen at 6389 Mission street where an electrical fixture shorted, causing an estimated $25 damage.

Firemen reported that a bathtub in an apartment over the restaurant had overflowed and water had seeped into the fixture.

Off-duty firemen, called into action for the Niantic avenue fire, responded to the restaurant call.

At 4:29 a grass and tree fire was reported of El Portal way, east of Westlake estates. Firemen quickly extinguished the flames.

Black Named CD Officer

Appointment of James G. Black to the position of public information officer for the county civil defense organization was announced Friday by Dallas Radcliffe, deputy area CD co-ordinator.

Black has worked for years as county traffic safety publicist.

Radcliffe said Black passed highest in both the written and oral examinations given for the job by the county civil service department.

County Now Ninth In State Population

A San Mateo county population of 500,100, on January 1, was reported last week by the California Taxpayers' association. This means, the group said, that San Mateo is now ninth largest of California's 58 counties.

Since the 1960 census, county population has increased by 55,713 people, a growth of 12.5 per cent.

The only larger counties are, Los Angeles, with 6,511,000 people; San Diego, 1,130,000; Alameda, 991,300; Orange, with 883,500; Santa Clara with 795,700; San Francisco, 752,500; Sacramento, 575,600; and San Bernardino, 556,000.

The association's estimate of state - wide population was 17,380,000, which appears to confirm the claim that California has passed New York state in population and become number one among the states.

The increase in California population since the 1960 census has been 1,662,796. During the past year the state's population has increased by 624,000 from the association's revised estimate of 16,756,000 for January 1, 1962.

Counties in which the association's study disclosed increases of more than 50,000 since the 1960 census are: Alameda 83,091 increase, Contra Costa 50,270 increase, Los Angeles 472,229 increase, Orange 179,575, Sacramento 72,822, San Bernardino 52,409, San Diego 96,989, San Mateo 55,713, Santa Barbara 50,438 and Santa Clara 153,385.

Percentagewise the greatest increase in population, since the census, occurred in Santa Barbara county, which increased 29.9 per cent.

Orange, Ventura and Santa Clara counties followed close behind with increases of 25.5 percent, 24.8 per cent and 23.9 per cent respectively.

Other counties showing substantial increases since the 1960 census are: El Dorado 21.3 per cent, Kings 23.5 per cent, Lake 15.3 per cent, Placer 17.2 per cent, Santa Cruz 15.2 per cent and Yuba 19 per cent.

Only six counties have decreased in population since the 1960 census, according to the association's studies. These are: Alpine, Del Norte, Mendocino, Modoc, Trinity and Tuolumne.

"The explosive population growth which has skyrocketed our state to the top of the list has brought with it a whole bagful of related problems," commented Sheffield J. Arnold, the association's executive director.

"The manner in which California solves its growth problems will determine the 'goodness' or 'badness' of our state as a place in which to live and to work. We can neither fail to meet legitimate needs for essential public services or tolerate continued runaway taxation."

Board Ends Hearing in Calvert Case

The Daly City Personnel Board last Thursday closed the public hearing on the Reginald Calvert case.

Calvert, a maintenance carpenter for the city, was laid off last month because his job had been eliminated in a cost-cutting move.

The personnel board must now recommend action to the city council and city manager within ten days.

The hearing was a continuation of a December 19 meeting when the union, represented by Jess Abramovitz, and City Manager Ed Frank presented their arguments.

The city manager maintains the basis of layoff is seniority within class. Calvert is the only one in his class and had to be laid off when his job was cut, Frank says.

The union representative argued that Calvert was still a city employe because the board had not given the city manager approval for the layoff. He also argued that the definition of class was vague.

Two Money Plans For Coast Ballot

Pacifica voters will be asked to approve an application for $6,000,000 in state aid and a $600,000 bond issue at the April 16 school election, trustees of the Laguna Salada elementary school district decided last week.

In setting up the election, trustees expressed no opposition that the election be combined with a special election to approve a county-wide multi-million dollar bond issue to finance a county wide road improvement program.

In scheduling the election, trustees set up 20 consolidated precincts, and agreed polls should be kept open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The board last week passed a resolution urging local state representatives to strongly support legislation for increased state support to local school district.

It was pointed out that state assistance to local school districts has constantly been decreasing throughout the state, and is now at a 15-year low. The percentage of state help to the Laguna Salada district has decreased 10.9 per cent during the past few years, according to Superintendent Frederick E. Lucas.

He pointed out that the local school tax was increased from 90 cents to $1.60 in 1945, and to $2.45 per $100 of assessed valuation in 1961.

Construction

John Munt, assistant superintendent in charge of business, reported that Ortega school, where construction was delayed because of rainy weather and strikes, is almost completed and should be opened by Friday.

He said Cabrillo school is 30.9 per cent completed, and should be opened on schedule before next September. He reported construction contracts have been signed for an addition to district headquarters and an instructional materials building.

Cabell Gwathmey, San Francisco architect, reported that revised plans are being prepared for classroom additions to Westview and Pacific Heights schools and should be submitted to the board by Tuesday. He said construction bids can probably be advertised by February 7, and both additions should be completed by November 1. Previous construction bids for the two additions were rejected as being excessive.

Lucas reported that while 36 teachers left the school district between June 30 and December 31, the turnover does not seem excessive, because of the reasons given.

Lucas listed the following reasons given for teacher resignations: five for maternity, 11 teachers marrying or moving from the district with their husbands, three who want to stay at home, three who accepted new positions, one returning to school for advance study, and three who gave personal reasons.

He reported that 10 teachers left the district for reasons other than resignations. These included two leaves of absence, one retirement, one death, two not re-employed, two promoted, and two who did not return to the district at the conclusion of their leaves of absence.

Lucas said a report on team teaching in the fourth and fifth grade schools at Westview school will be submitted to the board at its Tuesday meeting. The district previously instituted a team teaching program in the seventh and eighth grades at Sanchez school after it proved successful last year.

The superintendent said a report on a district wide testing program which exceeds state requirements will be submitted on February 22.

Traffic guards were appointed on Peralta avenue and Crespi drive, effective when the new Ortega school opens.

The board approved a policy granting teachers and other employes leaves when they are called for jury duty.

Pacifica Chamber Begins Projects

Members of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce have started work on two main projects for 1963, president Lloyd Sitts announced at the regular monthly chamber meeting last week.

A business directory for Pacifica will be issued in late February or early March and the chamber will again conduct the Miss Pacifica contest in late May.

The resignations of three members of the chamber's board of directors were announced: George Nutter, formerly of Red Robin Market; James Fox, Linda Mar Hardware, and William Myerhoff, Seaview Tire company. They resigned to devote more time to their businesses.

Sailor Injured Stopping Auto

A 19-year-old sailor stationed at Treasure Island was taken to Alemany emergency hospital in San Francisco last Tuesday when he was injured trying to stop his rolling car in Daly City.

Arthur B. Brooks told Daly City police he had turned the wheels in and put the brake on when he parked his car in front of 674 Evergreen street. He was helping his date, Sharon Derham, out of the car.

The car started rolling and Brooks tried to stop it. His leg was caught between the moving vehicle and the car in front. The car stopped.

The new Pacifica evening Toastmasters club elected temporary officers at its second meeting last Thursday at the Sea Bowl.

Officers are: Joseph Weber, president; Walter Dunajski, administrative vice president; Roland Finken, educational vice president; Howard Stillman, treasurer, Peter Hegedus, secretary, and Anthony Baeza, sergeant-at-arms.

Fred Stockbridge, lieutenant governor of Toastmasters District Four, was the guest of honor. Other visitors were Felix Monte and Robert Stephens, past president of the Burlingame Toastmasters club.

Daniel Barreto, president of the Financial District Toastmasters club, served as master evaluator of the program.

Weber urged persons interested in joining the group to attend the meetings on Thursday evenings at 7:30 at the Sea Bowl.

'Fascination'— But No Travel!

A Daly City accountant who was "fascinated" with the names of foreign ports but never got to any of them has retired after nearly 42 years as chief cost accountant for the States Steamship company.

"I have been fascinated by the romantic names of the places I found on my daily entry sheet," John Edward Hergert recalled, "but I have never visited them."

Hergert and his wife live at 442 Westmoor avenue. Last month, 50 of his co-workers at States gave him a testimonial luncheon and presented him a typewriter and slide projector.

The veteran accountant was hired by the Columbia Pacific Shipping company in 1921 as a junior in the auditing department. The company was a predecessor of States.

Hergert was named chief accountant of the firm in 1955.

He is a member of the Board of Deacons of the Westlake Community Baptist church.

His plans?

"I plan to continue on with my stamp collecting and home movies," he allowed. "I also plan to come into San Francisco twice a week and just sit in the courts and observe. I love the law and now I will finally get enough time to really see its processes in operation.

Rose Pruning Should Be Delayed for a Few Days

HOME & GARDENS

By IVA NEWMAN

Each year at this time, we bring you an article on the latest methods of pruning roses. The big rose growers and the thousands of amateurs work and study to find the best way to prune the various types of rose plants and varieties so as to increase their flower production and their beauty as a garden ornamental.

This year the most positive forward step is the time to prune. Science has found through laboratory research and the amateur through practical experience, that all rose plants produce a finer crop of spring bloom if they are not pruned before the middle of January in mild climates. This is particularly true for roses on this part of the Peninsula. Pruning stimulates the rose into starting new growth. When pruning is done early in January during a mild spell, roses rush into growth production. Then, should the temperature drop, this new growth is blighted and while it does not turn black as most frost-bitten plants do, it does not produce blooms. Many other semi-tender shrubs in late December and early January helps to force them into dormancy. Big growers, such as the Devore-Amling company and the Jackson & Perkins company, turn sheep into the fields to eat the foliage off the plants. Rose foliage is sweet, the sheep love it and put on weight, and they bite the leaves off carefully to prevent being stuck by the thorns. Defoliating the plants and raking up the fallen leaves makes pruning a much easier task. The pruner can see at a glance, the canes that need to be removed for they are not hidden by the foliage. Then, too, last year's leaves hide a multitude of problems such as aphis and other insect eggs plus any number of disease spores.

We have been asked why it is necessary to prune roses. It is true that in the wild no plant is cut back. Nature waits for canes and branches to die so a storm can knock the dead wood out. Our gardens would be pretty messy looking if we did that. We prune to train the plants into being good garden citizens. And, we have learned that roses produce blooms best on new wood so we prune to encourage the plants to produce an abundance of new wood. As more and more new wood is produced, more and more old wood can be removed thus keeping the plants continuously young.

Hold Shears Correctly

The first step in pruning is learning to use the pruning shears correctly. All the good rosarians we know use hooked type shears. By using the thin cutting blade next to that part of the cane or branch that is to be left on the plant it is not damaged or bruised by the heavier, curved holding blade. A smooth close cut can be made so that no stump is left to die back. When shortening a good cane make the cut on an angle one-quarter-inch above the desired "eye." The high side of the cut should be directly above the eye. The slant lets rain and dew run off immediately so the soft pith of the cane is not injured by standing water.

When the canes are too large to be cut with one slicing action by the hand shears, loppers should be used. Canes on climbers, especially old canes are too large and too woody for hand shears to do a smooth job. Sometimes the canes are so big and hard or so difficult to get at that a small saw is needed to do a smooth job. Uusually a saw is needed to remove old woody canes at the bud union or base. It is important that no stumps be left in this area as they prevent new canes from developing. Basal canes from the bud union are the most desired canes a plant can produce. Rosarians use Japanese flower arranging saws, keyhole saws and little triangular hack saws. Some of the nurseries are stocking small editions of the folding pruning saw. These are good, if they are slender bladed. The main idea is to leave no wood on the plant that will die from lack of nourishment for when dieback starts it often keeps on until it kills the entire cane.

Where do you start? This is a question every new rose grower asks. The number and size of the canes is frightening to a new gardener. Start first with the dead wood as it is easily recognized and every inch of it must come out if the plant is to stay healthy and productive. Once this is out, remove the short twiggy growth close to the parent cane. These little two to four or five-inch growths clutter up the plants, prevent good air circulation, make it difficult to get good spray coverage and they produce nothing but little leaves. Next study the plant and remove the canes that have grown across the center for they too, shut off air circulation and they frequently saw into more desirable canes when the wind blows.

Eyes

The next step is usually the most confusing to a beginner. It is the shortening of the remaining canes to the topmost good "eye." "Eye" is the name given the tiny pimple-like growth at each leaf axil. If you are at all puzzled by what constitutes a "good eye" wait until the eyes produce growth an inch or two long before shortening the good canes. Once this growth is produced it is no trick to pick husky new growth and if you don't wait too long to cut the pruning won't hurt this new growth at all. However, the pruning shears must be very clean and very sharp to prevent damage. Here on the Peninsula we leave as much good, young, uncluttered wood on the plants as possible as we find this type of pruning gives us more and finer blooms. In the east the severe cold forces them to prune lower so their plants cannot match ours for size and number of blooms.

New Plants Located in California

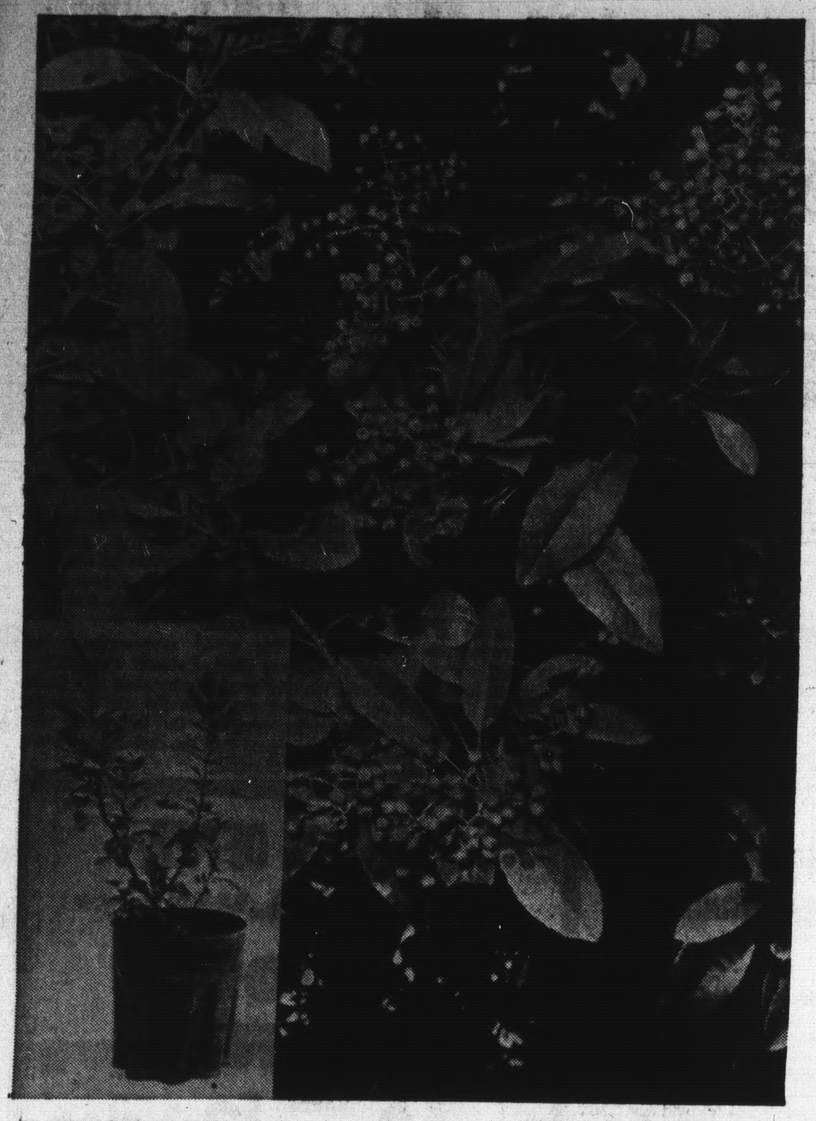
A detailed study of two California plants has led to the discovery of a new species of juniper in the San Bernardino mountains and the unusual breeding characteristics of the San Joaquin valley wildflower, Clarkia.

Conducting this research program is Dr. Frank C. Vasek, assistant professor of botany at the University of California, Riverside. The study on junipers began when a third species was found to exist in the San Bernardino mountains in Southern California. Manuals on this subject listed only two species, but field observations by Dr. Vasek indicated that an intermediate juniper occurs in these mountains.

Preliminary studies identified this third species as the Utah juniper. Their nearest location was reported to have been the Providence Mountains, some 70 miles east of the San Bernardino mountains.

Dr. Vasek will seek to determine the characteristics of each of the three junipers found, and to learn their differences. This will be accomplished by a detailed study of cone size, length and scale, number of pollen cones, seed size and number per cone, leaft gland size and position, and bark color and texture. Completion of the study may aid in correct identification of this third species of juniper, and establish morphological characteristics of the other two species.

Clarkia, the annual wildflower that grows on the mountainous slopes around the San Joaquin valley in central California, have considerable differentiation among their chromosomes which can be seen only under a microscope.



PLANT OF THE WEEK, California's Toyon, started from a small nursery can (insert) can be grown as a shrub, a multiple trunked tree or with a single trunk with the lowest branches head high. This showy native transplants most easily from a small container.

California Toyon Has Much Color

The California Toyon, Photinia arbutifolia, which grows so luxuriously along the highways and byways of the Peninsula is The Times Plant of the Week. This native plant earns this distinction for keeping the robins so well fed this year that they have stayed up in the hills and not come down to rob garden plants of their bright fruits, thus worrying local bird lovers.

Of all the native plants which grace our Golden State, none has more practical garden value than the colorful Toyon or native Christmas Berry. Here is a shrub or small tree which fits readily into most garden settings. It has handsome green foliage, white flowers in large flat clusters in the spring and bright red berries that color up in November to last through January.

There are many names by which you might find this California Christmas Berry. Botanists call it Photinia, while old friends and native Peninsulans know it as Toyon or California Holly. It gets the holly part of its name from the bristle-pointed teeth that edge the glossy, dark green leaves. Photinia, the botannical name, is derived from the Greek photeinos, which means "shining" and that is the first thing you notice about this fine shrub. At any season, it is an evergreen mass of glossy green. These four-inch leaves make a rich background in the garden. They are spotted occasionally with bronzy tones and often some of the leaves turn a brilliant bright red just before they drop off the shrub.

In the spring, the Toyon is aglow with flowers. These are pink in the bud, white when they open and are borne in clusters which later becomes berries. In full bloom, the shrub is often completely covered with flowers. The individual flowers are not spectacular, but like the pyracantha, it is their numbers that make the fine show.

In the fall come the berries, bushels of them, which countless berry seekers tramp over the countryside to cut for holiday decorations. Robins find these berries very tasty and stay in the hills feasting until they clean them up. This usually happens about the middle of December, then the robins descend to feed on the berries of garden ornamentals. The bumper crop of toyon berries have kept the robins in the hills far past their usual time.

There are several uses for the Toyon in the garden. Being dense in texture, it serves well as a screen for the property line. Left on its own, it will grow to 20 or more feet. Judicious pruning will keep it much lower. Landscape architects and members of the California Association of Nurserymen strongly recommends against clipping in the formal manner, for its beauty lies in its irregular undulating habit of growth.

Beautiful in the wild, the Toyon improves under cultivation, and though drought tolerant it does not object to summer watering as many native plants do. Try pruning this plant to form a single-trunk small tree. Open up the framework of branches to admit light which will highlight the glossy nature of the leaves. Use this tree in a patio well to provide filtered sunlight and make relaxing more comfortable in the summertime. It is also recommended for use on banks for erosion control.

Lessons in Rose Pruning

Sunday at 2 p.m. the San Mateo County Rose society will hold another of their annual public pruning sessions in the Rose Garden of East park on Fremont street, between Mte. Diablo and East Santa Inez streets. Anyone interested in having a lesson in rose pruning is invited to bring a clean, sharp pair of pruning shears.

Individual lessons, under the supervision of the Rose Society's National Rose Consultants, Iva Newman, James Averell, Ernest Gattiker and Charles Brown, will be given anyone desirous of learning how to prune any given type of rose plant. The rose garden at East park contains every type of rose found in the average garden from the sprawling floribunda to the climbing hybrid tea. Most of the plants are the best of the new introductions of the past five years.

The Rose society sets its pruning dates early in January in order to help the new rose grower with his pruning problems before he has to tackle his own garden. Climatic conditions in this area make it hazardous to prune roses before January 15. The last week in January and the first week in February are considered the most ideal time. Early pruning forces out new growth that is likely to be damaged by a sudden drop in temperature thus depriving the owner of a good crop of spring blooms.

Spanish Cream Made With Milk

Desserts are a "must" in many families; are often planned ahead of the rest of the menu. Selecting a dessert that is appealing to the taste yet conservative in calories need not be difficult when popular Spanish Cream is made according to this recipe. The milk and eggs are chief ingredients; provide fine nutrition with fewer calories than traditional recipes. Six to eight servings.

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract
½ teaspoon almond extract
3 egg whites, beaten stiff
Pineapple wedges

Blend gelatine, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Stir in milk and cook over hot water, stirring occasionally, until hot. Stir small portion of hot mixture into egg yolks; then return all to double boiler, blending mixtures well. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture coats spoon. Remove and fold into beaten egg whites. Cool; add extracts. Pour into 1½ quart mold or loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with pineapple wedges.

Apple-Cheese Quick Bread Is Popular

Here's a new recipe in the quick bread line that's sure to be in demand among your friends. It's for Apple-Cheese Bread, an easily mixed bread that you'll enjoy serving at almost any kind of affair . . . Breakfasts, coffees, buffets, fancy dinners. Apple-Cheese Bread is not one of the sweet-type quick breads that can double as desserts. This one goes best with the main course.

The shortening is lard. Reba Staggs, home economist, calls your attention to the advantages of using lard. It creates light quick breads and cakes and crisp cookies. When it comes to pie baking, lard makes flakier, more tender pie crusts than any other shortening.

Apple-Cheese Bread

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2-3 cup sugar
¼ cup chopped walnuts
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup grated unpeeled apples apples and juice
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
½ cup melted lard

Grease a 9 x 5-inch loaf pan. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and sugar. Add nuts. Beat eggs, add apples and apple juice, grated cheese and melted lard. Add to dry ingredients. Stir only until flour is moistened. Bake in loaf pan in a slow oven (325 degree F.) 1 hour. Yield: one 9 x 5-inch loaf.

Cut Calories With Aspic

Friends who count calories may appreciate this menu.

Tomato Aspic and Cottage Cheese Salad
Melba Toast
Fruit Compote Beverage

TOMATO ASPIC AND COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 cups tomato juice
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup (8 ounces) cream-style cottage cheese
Salad greens

Sprinkle gelatin over 1 cup of the tomato juice in a saucepan. Stir constantly over very low heat until gelatin dissolves and mixture is very hot, do not boil. Remove from heat. At once add the remaining 1 cup cold or room-temperature tomato juice, salt, celery salt and Worcestershire; stir to blend. Turn into individual molds and chill until set. Turn out of molds and serve with cottage cheese and salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

KEEP A CAN of green beans on your cupboard shelf. Use them countless ways; for instance, Sunday's left-over roast gets a real face-lifting when prepared as a main dish with flavorsome green beans, undiluted soup, seasonings, cheese and almonds.

Lunchtime Pizzas for Teenagers

Although the flavor is similar to the traditional pizza, these "pizzas" are served as individual, open - faced sandwiches. The "crust" is toasted bread. Next comes a Mozarella cheese slice . . . the typical pizza cheese. On top of each are three browned sausage links with a zesty tomato sauce.

You'll want to remember the idea when the teen-age gang comes to your house.

Easy-To-Do Pizzas

1 pound pork sausage links
2 tablespoons water
4 slices bread, toasted
4 slices Mozzarella cheese
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon oregano

Place sausage links and water in cold frying-pan. Cover tightly and cook slowly 5 minutes. Remove cover, pour off drippings and brown links. Place a cheese slice on each slice of toast. Arrange 3 sausage links on each. Combine tomato sauce and oregano. Spoon sauce over each sandwich. Bake on cooky sheet in a very hot oven (450 degree F.) 6 to 8 minutes. 4 servings.

SHERRY-PECAN ROUNDS
(Makes about 2 dozen)

½ cup soft butter
1-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon anise extract
½ teaspoon grated lemong rind
2 egg yolks
1 to 1¼ cups very finely chopped pecans
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup California Sherry

Cream butter and sugar with anise and lemon rind until very light and fluffy. Beat in egg yolks thoroughly. Add ½ cup of the pecans. Resift flour with salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with Sherry. Drop dough, a tablespoon at a time, into remaining chopped nuts. Toss or roll lightly until coated; shape into balls about ½ inch thick and 1½ inches in diameter. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 10 minutes or just until delicately browned. Cool thoroughly before storing in an airtight container.

SHERRY SHORTBREAD COOKIES
(Makes about 5 dozen)

1 cup soft butter
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon grated orange or lemon rind
1 egg, well beaten
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup California Sherry

Cream butter, sugar, almond and vanilla extracts and orange or lemon rind together until very light or fluffy. Beat in egg. Resift flour with baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with Sherry, mixing until well blended. Cover and chill dough several hours or overnight. Roll small portions of dough at a time, on lightly floured board, about 1/8 to 3-16 inch thick. Cut with bell, star, or other fancy cutter. Life carefully to ungreased baking sheets. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) just until very lightly browned, about 8 to 10 minutes. Cool before storing in an airtight container.

Try Caraway With Shrimp

Some good cooks like to add caraway seed when they are cooking fresh shrimp.

Tomato Bouillon Bread Tray
Caraway Shrimp with Tartar Sauce and Salad Greens
Bread Tray
German Apple Pancake Beverage

CARAWAY SHRIMP

1½ pounds shrimp (any size)
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons caraway seed

Rinse shrimp; turn into a saucepan with water, salt and caraway seed. Bring to a boil; boil gently just until shrimp shells turn pink—this will take only a few minutes. Drain shrimp, shuck and remove black veins. Serve with Tartar Sauce and Salad Greens. Store shrimp in a covered container in refrigerator until ready to use—the same day they are cooked or next day. Makes 4 servings.

6th President's Kin in SSF Dies

John Henry Adams, 62, of 149 LaCrosse avenue, South San Francisco, a great-great-grandson of John Quincy Adams, the sixth President of the United States, died last Wednesday at the Public Health Service hospital in San Francisco after a long illness.

A native of California and a South San Francisco resident for 13 years, Adams was supervisor of the pipefitting department of Hunters Point Naval shipyard in San Francisco. He was a member of George Washington lodge, F.&.A.M., and Local 38 of Plumbing and Pipefitters' Union of San Francisco.

Surviving are his wife, Josephine; three sons, Edward William, Cupertino; Robert Bruce, South San Francisco, and John Henry Adams Jr., stationed with the Army in Japan; two sisters, Mrs. Fannie Walker of Sacramento and Mrs. Ethel Von-Ahn of San Francisco, and a grandchild.

Funeral services were held Monday from Larson Garden chapel, South San Francisco, under auspices of George Washington lodge, with interment in Woodlawn Memorial park, Colma.

UAL Blood Drive Scores

All company records were broken this month when United Air Lines employees contributed 466 pints of blood at the mobile unit of the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank.

Blood Bank officials pointed out that because of the generosity of the employees of United Air Lines there is always a full amount of blood at the Blood Bank during the Christmas holidays. The firm traditionally donates just before the Christmas season.

"This is one of the best examples of public relations and service to the community that we have seen," said U. S. Simonds Jr., president of the Blood Bank. "United Air Lines was one of the first industries to start reserve credits."

W. A. Diltz was chairman of the drive for the company. The purpose of the drive is to sign up 10 per cent of the employees for the blood donations.

Garbage Hassle Appears Ended

The big garbage war appeared to be over today.

Officials of the county and of the South County Disposal district agreed yesterday that the G and L scavenging company of San Francisco has every right, under present circumstances, to use the district dump east of Redwood City.

G and L is the firm that was forbidden by the county board of supervisors from bringing garbage to the South County dump from the Presidio in San Francisco. But the company sent a truck in anyway and the driver was arrested. District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson refused to prosecute, however.

At the conference yesterday, Sorenson told officials of the county and the district that denial of the permit could only be on the basis of health and safety. He said the county does not appear to have a complaint on that score.

Sorenson declared further that he had concluded that the district could not legally exclude garbage from outside the county as long as it was accepting any at all from outside the district. If, for example, residents of Atherton, which is not in the district, are allowed to use the dump, residents of San Francisco or any other place cannot legally be excluded.

Sorenson concluded that, under the circumstances, it is up to the district, not the county, to decide whether G and L can use the dump.

Dean Haug, district manager, informed the officials that the district is anxious to increase the volume of its business, and thereby its revenue.

D. C. Man Said Clouter

Some 70 "car clouts" have reportedly been solved by Detective Sergeant Walter Otten who charged a 21-year-old Daly City man with burglary.

Milton Printemps, 125 Bismark avenue was arrested by police.

Otten explained that Printemps was picked up in Palo Alto about 1 a.m. last Tuesday with a companion. They apparently had been loitering in an alley and police found a new wheel and tire in their car. San Mateo police were notified.

According to Sergeant Otten, Printemps admitted going through two dozen cars at the DeSabla and other apartment houses recently.

In no case, apparently, said Otten, did Printemps take valuable property. Expensive cameras, binoculars and other property were ignored. Only money was taken and possibly a transistor radio and small camera.

Big County CD Program Underway

Seek to Train 153,000 Here In Emergency Medical Care

San Mateo county has been chosen for a gigantic public education program, the aim of which will be to train one member of each family — a total of some 153,000 people — in emergency medical care.

County Civil Defense officials said it will be the largest such program on medical services ever to be conducted by a civil defense organization anywhere.

The San Mateo county program is on a pilot basis and, if successful, may be tried nationwide.

Appointment of a steering committee to guide the study was announced Thursday by Dallas Radcliffe, deputy co-ordinator of the local CD area. The committee met last week in Hillsborough to start making plans for the massive education program.

"The ultimate goal of this program," Radcliffe told the committee, "will be to teach a 16-hour course of medical instruction to one member of every family in the San Mateo county operational area."

Explains

Dr. Charles Henderson, chairman of the CD committee of the San Mateo County Medical Society, told the group:

"The concept of this program is to give people the kind of medical knowledge they will need in a disaster situation when their family doctor is not available—up-to-date medical knowledge of the same kind known by our pioneer forefathers who, living miles from any doctor, had to care for their own families.

"The 16-hour course of medical instruction is not only first aid, which is basically what to do until the doctor comes, but information and training about how to handle medical problems when the doctor cannot come at all."

Radcliffe said the pilot study was assigned to San Mateo county by the California Disaster Office, acting for the United States Public Health Service.

Solicitation

Because the local CD office does not have enough staff or money to handle the program itself, Radcliffe said, it became necessary to solicit the aid of an independent organization.

"Mrs. Helen Lengfeld, national president of the United Voluntary Services, graciously offered the services and facilities of her organization," Radcliffe reported.

Type 3 Polio Vaccine for Every Age

In concurrence with the recommendation of the California Department of Public Health advisory committee on the prophylaxis of poliomyelitis, the Bay Area Medical association committee to "K.O. Polio" will offer Type III Sabin oral polio vaccine to all age groups.

In a meeting last week in which the state committee recommendation was adopted, March 10 was set as the date for immunization in Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo, Marin, Contra Costa, and Santa Clara counties.

Immunization is especially encouraged for children in whom the danger of naturally occurring polio is greatest and who serve as the natural source of natural polio in the community, and for other high risk groups, in accordance with the recommendation of the state health department.

K.O. Polio physicians advise that the vaccine will be distributed in schools and other convenient K.O. Polio stations on the March 10 date.

Just Strolling On Los Olivos

Four-year-old William Dixon decided the confines of his backyard at 83 Shakespeare avenue, Daly City, were too small, so he decided to wander.

Daly City police spent from 10:30 a.m. to 3:25 p.m. one day last week looking for him. He was found by Patrolman Le Bastedo on Los Olivos street.

$350,000 For Fall in Paint Mixer

A $350,000 suit for damages was filed in Redwood City Superior Court last week on behalf of a San Francisco man who fell into a high-speed paint mixer at a Daly City plant last January 19.

The suit states that Larry E. Mencimer was working at the Early American Paint and Varnish company at 2 Hillside boulevard when he came into contact with the mixing blade and was pulled into the tank of paint. The complaint states that Mencimer suffered multiple severe injuries and "fright and shock" and "severe mental suffering, anguish and distress."

Defendant is the C. K. Myers Engineering company. The suit alleges that the mixing machine was defective in that the blade was "inadequately or ineffectively covered."

Dolwig Says College Site Needed Now

State Senator Richard Dolwig of Redwood City Thursday introduced a bill asking the California senate to appropriate $7,000,000 from the state construction program fund to buy a site for a four-year college in San Mateo county.

"Purchase of a site as soon as possible is imperative," the senator said. "The state college board of trustees requires that a 320 acre parcel be available for this type of construction. With the tremendous population growth in San Mateo county, sections of land of these dimensions are becoming scarce and unavailable, and more expensive."

Dolwig pointed out that delays, in the past, have proven to be costly. He cited a bill he introduced in 1959, which asked for $2,000,000 to buy the same size piece of land.

Prohibitive

"Within this relatively short period of time I now find it necessary to ask the legislature for an additional $5,000,000. If delays continue, the cost could be almost prohibitive. Industrial and home construction is rolling along at a rapid rate in San Mateo county, and 320 acre parcels are disappearing fast.

"It must be remembered that not only is the size an important factor, but the land must meet the specifications of the board of trustees."

A Model and a Model

ADMIRING LINES of the Italian hydrofoil boat being displayed at the National Sports and Boat show in the Cow Palace February 1 to 10 are Italian Consul General Alessandro Savorgnan, center, and sports show managing director Thomas Rooney, as model Sue Speer displays the model of the unique craft. Italy will have an official entry at the show.

Notes WILL be Kept of Meets

Nancy J. Cross of Menlo Park has won another point in her war against the county Board of Supervisors.

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson has agreed with her that a deputy county clerk should be in attendance at the board's informal study meetings and that minutes should be made.

On the basis of Sorenson's opinion, County Clerk John A. Bruning said he will arrange to have a special deputy at the meetings.

Workshop Set Feb. 6

As a result of numerous requests, one of The Times most popular public services will be repeated on Wednesday, February 6, when The Times Third Advertising Workshop will be held at the Hilton Inn.

Attendance at the day-long workshop will be by invitation only and will follow the general format of the 1959 affair. The first workshop was held in 1956.

Invitations will be mailed later this week, J. Hart Clinton, publisher, announced. A full capacity audience of 250 display and classified advertisers is expected.

Leading advertising authorities and economists will conduct the sessions which begin at 9 a.m. in the morning with registration. Following luncheon, the display and classified advertisers will separate into two groups for more personalized advertising discussions.

"The purpose of the workshop," Clinton emphasized, "is to provide a vehicle for discussing the basic principles of newspaper advertising with our customers and the techniques and theories that will be of practical value in the daily conduct of their businesses.

Federal Funds to Be Matched for Rural Highways

San Mateo county will share in a $12,913,047 state and federal fund apportionment for California county road construction.

The allocation which is for the 1963-64 fiscal year includes $8,762,019 from the federal government and $4,151,028 in state matching funds.

San Mateo couty's share will be $84,385 of which $50,166 is federal money and $34,119 from the state highway budget.

Federal funds for county roads and state matching money are distributed to the counties according to federal and state regulations.

The federal funds are apportioned to the various counties according to the formula used by the federal government in distributing federal-aid secondary funds to the states—one-third on the basis of area, one-third on rural population, and one-third on mileage of certain classes of mail routes.

Federal Funds

The money from state sources is for the use of the counties in matching the federal funds on the basis of approximately 60 per cent federal to 40 per cent local funds. According to state law, $100,000 is the maximum amount which may be made available to a county in any fiscal year for use in matching its federal allocation.

This $100,000 ceiling will permit 33 counties to match all of their federal allocation out of funds provided by the state, except for a small amount of county funds required for contingencies and engineering. Under state law the city and county of San Francisco is not eligible for FAS funds.

County roads on which federal-aid secondary funds may be spent are those roads which have been designated by the county, with the approval of the California highway commission and the U. S. bureau of public roads, as constituting the county's federal-aid secondary system.

The largest federal-aid secondary allocation for 1963-64 will go to San Bernardino county—$654,335 federal and $100,000 state funds. The smallest allocations will be to Alpine, Amador, and Sierra counties. Each will receive $43,811 federal and $29,797 state funds.

Daly City Car Lot Thieves

Jerry and Walt's Used Car lot at 7469 Mission street, Daly City, reported to police Thursday that thieves had removed the transmission and drive shaft from a car in the lot. They estimated the loss at $150.

Supervisors Want More S.M. Judges

County supervisors agreed last week to sponsor legislation to add two more judges to the Superior Court and one additional judge to the Municipal Court in South San Francisco.

The bill is one of 25 legislative proposals the board has agreed to sponsor or endorse in the current legislative session in Sacramento.

Once again this year the county has hired William E. Carpenter, Alameda county's lobbyist, to be its legislative advocate in Sacramento. The cost will be $2000, the same fee paid by San Mateo county in 1961.

A bill to get a new judge for South San Francisco was introduced in 1961 but was killed. The proposal for two more Superior Court judges, one to take office this year and the second next year, has the backing of the county bench and bar.

Among the proposals the supervisors agreed to sponsor:

Authorize legislation to permit changes in the boundary between San Mateo and Santa Clara county. County officials have agreed to trade certain properties when law permits.

Change the county flood control act to meet objections of cities which have stalled efforts to form a flood control project in the north county area. The bill would provide for taxation according to zones of benefit and require that maximum tax rates be set when zones are formed.

Allow county offices to remain open for business on election days. It is estimated that closing on elections cost $10,000 a day in additional and special salaries.

Authorize counties to keep polls open until 8 p.m. on election day, instead of 7 p.m. This would better accommodate commuters.

Allow counties to perform tax assessment and collection services for cities free of charge. Present law requires the county to be paid the cost of such services. The board has been encour-

Tourists from all over the world make Finocchio's located in the heart of North Beach a "must" when in San Francisco.

Villa Chartier Since 1925

The Villa Chartier has been a gathering spot for those who appreciate fine food since 1925. So much so that it's been a tradition to say, "Meet me at the Villa Chartier!" Try it — for luncheon or dinner—real soon. The food and friendly atmosphere make each meal an occasion of great pleasure.

Meet "Harvey" At Romano's

Enrico Romano is as proud as a peacock of his elk horns which are hoisted above the back bar of his Pacifica Italian restaurant. The head and horns (the largest I've ever seen) are the result of Enrico's elk hunt last year.

Understand the beast had such "sharp-looking" teeth that Enrico is planning a charm bracelet for his mother. Oh yes, the bartenders call the elk "Harvey." He tipped the Toledos at 800 pounds when Enrico brought him down in a single shot.

New Hyatt House Hotel Addition

The Hyatt House Hotel is "hotter" than a jet motor in full flight since the announcement that Johnny Kan, the San Francisco Chinese food great, will soon open a branch restaurant in the Executive Room.

Now all movie star Danny Kaye, who is a chop stick steady at Kan's San Francisco, will have to do is land his plane at the airport and taxi in for dinner.

Sinaloa Also Famed For Mexican Food

Luz Garcia's Sinaloa has long been famed for its all-Latin floor shows featuring top names in the entertainment world, not to mention the outstanding and varied selection of Mexican food (a la carte and full course dinner). Special attention is called to the Combination Plate which is a family delight. For those who prefer steaks, both New Yorks and filets are broiled to taste perfection. Dinner is served from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. seven days a week. Music and entertainment starts at 8 p.m.

May Castro has moved her restaurant "shingle" to the Mardi Gras Sidewalk Cafe. Many new dishes will be added to the menu—such as Cheese Souffle (one of her specials), and clam chowder—served just as it was at the Blue Boar. Homemade pastries here, a dessert treat.

Attracting a good deal of attention is the 92-foot steel structure going up in front of the Thunderbird, in Las Vegas, for the hotel's new marquee. "The familiar Thunderbird is so high in the air he may have to wear an oxygen mask," remarked a spectator.

Dining Great At Nick's

For a dinner that will be something to remember, Nick Gust's Pacifica restaurant is situated only a few yards from the ocean. Every table in the dining room offers a scenic view of the coastline.

Nick's spotlights Verna Wales at the organ, nightly; dancing on weekends to Bill Kanes 3 Beats; Mary Ann Hay mikes the vocals.

Billy Tavake and his Samoans, along with Princess Rua and Tiara performing the dances of the Islands, head the entertainment list at the beautiful Caravan Inn.

Manager Frank Dennison features Polynesian drinks, which include many mysterious recipes, served in a tropical setting.

Linda, popular hostess at the old Papagayo Room, is now doing the greeting and seating at Lew Lehr's Marina steak house in San Francisco. Linda knows hundreds of Northern Californians by their first name.

Rocca's restaurant waiter Joe Pastori returned with an order of raspberry pie instead of strawberry, to a customer and commented: "Gee, I remembered wrong."

Ernie's Liquors' veep Jim Althoff suggests this fleet song: "Red Sails in the Sunset."

Finocchio's 30th Annual Revue Most Outstanding

Joe Finocchio is starting 1963 off with the proverbial bang in presenting his 30th annual winter musical revue at his San Francisco club, world-famous Finocchio's. His new Lestra LaMonte production is titled "Travelogue" — and it is just that — ranging musically from locales such as Rio down Brazil way to gay Paree, romantic Rome and England's lively Music Halls.

From the opening song, "I Believe In You," as sung by Lenny Reynolds, the audience is given plenty of reasons to believe in this show. In subsequent rapid fashion, one is taken to several lands in song and dance as well as comedy.

Star Lucian, the master ad-libber, leads the fun-making brigade ably aided by Francis & Blair, famed as "The Two Old Bags From Oakland," as well as Jackie Phillips and J. J. Van Dyke.

Singer LaVerne Cummings distinguishes himself by vocaling pop songs of the day. In one number he appears as a Roman flower girl with Dancers Stormy Lee and Kara Montez.

Reggie Dahl does his share to make this one of the danciest shows around. Comic Elton Paris surpasses all his previous multi-voiced singing and adds a bit of contralto to his high soprano and low bass in the same songs.

Al St. Claire, a new singing star at Finocchio's, is also well received.

A 'Trip' to England Via Hillsdale Inn

For an imaginative trip to one of England's finest restaurants, set your sights on the sparkling, new Hillsdale Inn.

The King Henry dining room and cocktail lounge transports one to Tudor, England. It is reminiscent of the gay, colorful era of King Henry VIII and the days of robust appetites.

The snug cocktail lounge is separated from the dining room by carved pillars and posts — creating a most intimate atmosphere. Strolling minstrels wander from table to table — adding to the pleasure of your visit.

Broiled menu entrees are served at the table on flaming lances, with prime rib being one of the many house specialties.

With so many Mexican restaurants popping up on the Peninsula skyline, it's no wonder a call came in from Frank Schy to inform me (to inform you) that after trying them all, try his Horky's.

"Our prices are right, top quality products are featured, and our service can't be beat," said Frank.

Keith Williamson has new menus for the youngsters to color when dining at his Keith's Chicken House, in Burlingame. Also plenty of crayons on hand.

Says Milt Tonini, owner of the Princeton Inn, "Early to bed and early to rise and you won't know what is going on in the night spots."

Continental dining in the Crystal Room of the new Thunderbird Hotel is attracting folks from San Francisco as well as the Peninsula.

Phil Rauscher, manager of the International Inn Restaurant, gives this definition of an optimist: "One who thinks that taxes can't go any higher."

One of the yummiest table treats on the restaurant beat is served at the New Southern restaurant—Chicken and dumplings.

The other evening, Bob Roberts, manager of the Peninsula's Skylark restaurant, was complaining about all the time it took him to read trade magazines.

Piped up his first grader Debra Kay: "Well, you can read a lot faster if you don't take time to color the pages."

Pancho's Wins National Award

"Institutions" magazine has announced that it has conferred a national award for excellence of design to Pancho's Mexican Cafe, in Redwood City.

A bright, colorful Mexican restaurant, Pancho's was designed by Don Clever and features furniture and fixtures handmade in Spain and various parts of Mexico.

The food is strictly native Mexican, tempered to American taste. For those who prefer the hotter "south of the border" dishes, Pancho's is equipped to provide these authentic seasonings, too.

Nothing pleases Benjamin Franklin Hotel boss Erwin Best more than a hot summer day, top down on his Mercedes-Benz 190 SL, and "Oscar" (his pet Dachshund) at his side barking signals as they roar along on an open country road.

The Varsity Boys, a popular vocal group who play banjo and piano, plus any other instrument that happens to be at hand, will entertain at the Gaslight Pizza Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Pizza, sandwiches, beer and soft drinks for the hungry and thirsty ones.

Nat Cole Opens Thursday At Harrah's Tahoe

Nat "King" Cole, one of the great all-time singers, returns to the beautiful South Shore Room of Harrah's Tahoe for a three-week engagement beginning next Thursday evening (Jan. 17). Cole will be returning to the South Shore after previous successful engagements at Harrah's.

Zany comic Jerry Lewis will appear twice nightly through January 16.

Headlining the entertainment program at the Stateline Lounge is Harry James and his Music-Makers, Jimmy Wakely, Augie Colon, and Santos and Johnny.

On the lounge program at Harrah's Reno are Jerry Colonna, Judy Lynn, Johnnie "Scat" Davis, Susie and the Night Owls, and One Plus One.

Charm Garden Lunches Now

The Charm Garden has it's luncheon program under way as of yesterday. Owners Zue Loo and Wade Loo have prepared a well-balanced menu for the occasion. So make it a point to be a noon day visitor. Beautiful waterfalls and georgeous flowers in bloom add a backdrop to the mid-day or evening lunch or dinner scene that's hard to beat. Kingsize cocktails also a restaurant feature.

Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong and his great collection of jazz stars are now appearing in the Venetian Room of the Fairmont Hotel. The top trumpet and singing star — that's "Satchmo"—has gathered a terrific group and they present one of the all-time great musical shows at the Fairmont.

Ryan Airs Viewson S.M. College

Assemblyman Leo Ryan returned to his home and family in South San Francisco Friday, after his first week in the legislature, already a little shell-shocked from the hurley-burley of California's law-making "jungle" in Sacramento.

The reason he was a little battle torn is that he suddenly found himself in the middle of a controversy over the creation of a new state college in San Mateo county, although he had only just been seated.

"I am for getting a state college in San Mateo county as soon as possible," Ryan said, "and I am willing to cooperate with my fellow legislators from San Mateo county in their efforts to get it this year, if possible.

'Very Cautious'

"But I want to go very cautiously about sponsoring any bills, or even co-sponsoring any, until I have a chance to become acquainted with my fellow Democratic and Republican legislators, and to find out how things are done.

Ryan, who is a veteran of five wild-swinging political campaigns in South San Francisco, all of which he won, is the first Democrat elected from San Mateo county in several decades, and he states he is not about to make any move without making sure first it won't come back to haunt him two years from now.

This is the main reason why he turned his fellow assemblyman from the south county, Carl "Ike" Britschgi, down when Britschgi asked Ryan to co-sponsor the San Mateo college bill, Ryan told The Times Saturday:

Ryan's Statement

"I want to go real slow and learn how things are done the right way," Ryan said. "I was sitting in my seat in the morning session when Assemblyman Britschgi came over to me and asked me to sign as co-sponsor.

"We had talked before the session about it, and I told him I would favor the college. Nothing was said about co-sponsoring this bill. I had no time to consider it, in the first place. In the second place, I'm not sure this is the way to get a college for San Mateo. Certainly, the figure of $7,000,000 may be unrealistic. Any why limit the site of the college to the south county before the education coordinating committee report is submitted?"

Ryan said, "I hope there are no hard feelings, since I did not intend this. It just seemed the right thing to do at the time, since I needed more time to consider what course of action would be best in the long run. I didnt' expect Britschgi to be offended.

"The college issue is going to be one of the larger local matters that will be a matter of San Mateo county concern this year, and I don't want to make any mistake."

Fitzgerald in Hatch's Spot

One of Alvin S. Hatch's first acts as 1963 chairman of the county Board of Supervisors last week was to appoint Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald as head of the county Greater Highways committee.

Hatch has served as chairman of the highway group since its inception. The committee has guided a study which is the basis for a $40,000,000 bond proposal to be placed before the electorate in April.

In accepting appointment as Hatch's successor, Fitzgerald complimented Hatch on the work the committee has accomplished to date.

"You give it the shot in the arm it needs to get the bond issue passed," Hatch admonished Fitzgerald.

Bad Worker Checks Here

The Better Business Bureau of San Mateo county has been notified by the Burlingame Police department that Department of Employment Disability insurance checks stolen in Southern California are appearing in San Mateo county.

These checks, numbered 207G 426523, 206F 426523, 548723 through 574382 d, and dated 12-28-62 or subsequently, and signed by Irving H. Perluss, are counterfeit.

This information has been verified by the investigation department of the Department of Employment and San Mateans are advised to be on the lookout for such checks above the 400,000 serial number, and so signed, said manager C. B. Beasley.

AUTO DAMAGED

Sam Gordon of 112 Mateo avenue reported to Daly City police that someone had smashed a window of his car over the weekend while it was parked in front of his home.

Police Finish Training Program

Officers Complete Training

Eight ranking officers of the Daly City Police department were awarded recognition at a Personnel board meeting last week for successful completion of an in-service training program in Municipal Police Administration.

Taking part in the program were: Captain Roy Beecher, Lieutenants John Walsh, David Hansen and Richard Sims and Sergeants Henry Sundermann, Jerry Galindo, Charles Terry and Matthew Murray.

Personnel board chairman John Drye commended the officers for participating in the program on their own time and initiative. He said the training will be an asset not only to their careers but to the city as well.

The couse, prepared by the International City Managers' association, included advanced aspects of subjects such as organization and management, training procedures, investigative techniques, juvenile delinquency, traffic, vice control, communications and public relations.

S. M. Redistrict Plan Is Delayed

County supervisors have agreed to conduct a public hearing on a redistricting plan they had intended to adopt last week.

The plan, proposed by Supervisor T. Louis Chess, would establish a Bayside district to include most of the land east of Bayshore freeway between International Airport and the Santa Clara county line.

After considering various plans for realignment of supervisorial districts, the board agreed on the Chess plan. But Nancy J. Cross, author of one of the rejected plans, complained that the board should grant a public hearing on the Chess plan.

The Redwood City city council and chamber of commerce also objected to the splitting of Redwood City property into two districts east and west of Bayshore.

The Redwood City council Monday approved a suggestion for a change in the Chess plan. The part of the Bayside district included within the city limits would be taken into the Fourth District. This area extends between Menlo Park and Foster City near San Mateo.

Judge Scott Bans Lawyer

Superior Judge Edmund Scott Monday made his office "off limits" to Thomas L. Bocci, a South San Francisco attorney and a former judge himself.

"You are not to come into my chambers again," Judge Scott told him.

Bocci was in court in connection with the fight by a group of Bayshore residents against a plan by Brisbane to annex some of Bayshore's valuable industrial land.

Prior to the court hearing, Bocci and Conrad Reisch, city attorney of Brisbane, conferred with Judge Scott in his office for 20 minutes. The judge said later that he told Bocci he did not think he had a good case and indicated he would rule against him.

As the session started in the courtroom, Bocci asked Judge Scott to disqualify himself from hearing the case because of prejudice. Judge Scott denied that he was prejudiced and told Bocci:

"You stay out of my chambers so we won't have these difficulties arising."

"I was only trying to be friendly," the judge added.

Judge Scott said he was forced to accept Bocci's affidavit of prejudice. Attorney's are entitled to one such disqualification in each case, without having to state the basis of their claim of prejudice.

Solo Crashes Under Study

What types of drivers are most likely to crack up their cars?

The California Highway Patrol has announced a program designed to find answers to the question.

A two-week study started throughout the state Monday. Specially trained officers will conduct interviews during that period with a sampling of drivers who have been involved in solo accidents.

The purpose of the study will be to develop a "personality profile" of the types of drivers most often involved in one-car accidents and thereby to determine the cause. It was noted by the CHP that the number of such accidents is steadily increasing.

Patrolman Walt Leaf has been assigned by Capt. John W. Kennedy to conduct the interviews in San Mateo county.

The 1962 Christmas stamp, a wreath-and-candle design in red and green, is the first stamp to mark a holiday season.

$174,838 To County

San Mateo county will receive $174,838.65 as its share of California's December road taxes.

State Controller Alan Cranston said today that December highway users taxes amounted to $32,234,937, an increase of 5.4 per cent over December of 1961.

He said the $32 million would be split among the state, the cities, and the counties.

The state highway fund received $21,615,862 for expenditure on highways. Another $7,663,592 went to the state's 58 counties, and $2,955,483 was split among various cities.

The amount distributed was derived from the following sources: Gasoline tax, $28,372,631; diesel fuel tax, $2,451,568; by transfer from the motor vehicle transportation tax fund, $1,410,116, and the balance from the miscellaneous sources.

Postal rates will increase as of Jan. 7, 1963. First-class mail will require a five-cent, rather than a four-cent stamp; airmail stamps will go up from seven to eight cents; postcards from three to four cents, and air-postcards from five to six cents.

Pacifica Police Nab Teen-Agers

Pacifica police picked up four teen-agers Friday afternoon for stripping an "abandoned" car at the end of Talbot road.

The car, belonging to San Bruno fireman Robert W. Hensel, 712 Green avenue, San Bruno, was reported stolen from in front of his home Thursday night.

James Powell, 19, Carmel Court, and Tom Draper, 18, Palmetto avenue, both of Pacifica, were charged with petty theft for removing seat belts and other items from the vehicle. Two 14-year olds were referred to juvenile hall.

Francis Murphy of 253 Belhaven drive reported to Daly City police over the weekend that vandals threw a rock through a bedroom window.

Burlingame Drive for Cathedral

More than 500 leading Catholic laymen from five parishes in Burlingame, Millbrae and San Bruno will inaugurate the first public phase — the Memorial phase — of the St. Mary's Cathedral Fund and Archdiocesan Campaign next week.

They will visit the homes of Catholics in the parishes of St. Catherine of Siena and Our Lady of Angels, Burlingame; St. Dunstan, Millbrae; and St. Bruno and St. Robert, San Bruno.

The men met Wednesday, in the parish hall of St. Catherine of Siena, under the direction of the Rev. James J. Ward, assistant regional campaign moderator for the five parish area.

Similar meetings were held during the week of January 6 and attended by more than 10,000 Catholic laymen throughout the four counties of the Archdiocese.

In addressing the meeting at St. Catherine of Siena, Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken explained the Memorial phase would permit donors to select a memorial such as a crucifix or statue in the name of a beloved one with their contribution.

"Having come into your midst only five months ago, it was not my wish to appeal to your generosity so soon," he said, "However, the duty to do so, has been forced upon me because of the tragic loss of St. Mary's Cathedral by fire on September 7.

"And now, since we must build a new cathedral, it was judged wise by many of you whose counsel we sought, to avoid a multiplicity of fund campaigns and include educational and charitable the needs of the Archdiocese in one great effort," he explained.

With a goal in excess of $17,000,000, the campaign is designed to provide funds for the construction of three new high schools, a college seminary and a home for the aged.

A new high school, Archbishop Alemany High, is scheduled to be built in the northern end of San Mateo County as a site yet to be selected.
